Say Britain Will Ask Allied Body To Rule Japan

Report Russia Demanding Commission Be Set Up to Dictate Policy for MacArthur

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP).—Tentative plans for a December meeting of an Allied control commission for Japan have been presented to the "Big Five" Council of Foreign Ministers. The Associated Press said it learned authoritatively tonight. The meeting would be in Washington.

The proposal, originally put forward by Britain, has been neither accepted nor rejected by the United States, reliable informants said, the news agency reported.

While the subject is not being discussed at formal sessions, it forms an important background for the talks.

Authoritative sources said the British plan was put forward after Soviet Russia had withdrawn reservations, the Associated Press added, seeing pressure exerted by the Dominions, particularly Australia, forced the British Cabinet to restore its support of the measure.

MOLOTOV DEMANDS ALLIED COMMISSION

The Associated Press said there are the recent developments on formation of such a commission:

Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov demanded that the council set up an Allied commission to lay down policy for Gen. MacArthur. His being came after Washington announced that the United States would be supreme in deciding Japanese occupation plans.

The United States Secretary of State, James F. Byrnes, refused to discuss the question, saying he was unprepared and that the Pacific was not on the Big Five agenda.

BRITAIN DECIDED TO BACK WASHINGTON

In view of difficulties with the Soviet Union over matters directly affecting British Mediterranean interests Britain was reported to have decided to go along with the United States in the Pacific and abandon its request for a control commission meeting in Washington.

It was learned from officials here today that the Australasian, objecting to the change in British policy delivered a note to the British Cabinet last stating they would insist on the right to participate in the determination of occupation policy.

According to reliable reports, Britain reconsidered and decided to request once more establishment of a control commission.

The plan still is in such a hazy state that it is not clear who would be invited to Washington. One source suggested it be limited to Britain, the Soviet Union, the United States, China and Australia.

Uprising in Argentina Supressed

Gen. Arturo Rawson Ends Up in Jail

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 25 (AP).—Gen. Arturo Rawson, leader of the 1943 revolution that overthrew President Ramon S. Castillo, attempted an armed revolt today to oust Argentina's military Government, but the rebellion was quickly suppressed.

The abortive uprising came amid increasing signs of nation-wide opposition to the regime of Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, President, and Col. Juan Peron, Vice-President and "strong man."

Army officers loyal to Peron jailed Rawson at Cordoba, provincial capital, at the foot of the Andes.

Also arrested were Gen. Osvaldo Martin, one of Rawson's inner circle, until he was relieved four days ago of command of 4th Army Division at Cordoba, and otherofficers.

Gen. Antonio Vago, Martin's successor in the command, ordered the two arrested for inciting officers and men of the garrison to rebellion.

WILL HELP INCOMMUNIADO

A statement by Peron this afternoon credited the "determined and energetic attitude" of the garrison with averting the uprising, and said "firm and decisive action" would be incommunicado "until the prosecution and punishment of the guilty ones are carried out."

"The Government has taken the necessary measures," Peron added, "to avoid a tranquility throughout the republic."

The measures included the interruption of communications with Cordoba described by an Associated Press correspondent as "confused"—and a prohibition of broadcasting of news that attempted coup to the interior.

Rawson, president for two days after the 1943 revolution in which he led 10,000 armed men into Buenos Aires, failed to retain what the army voted non-confidence in him.

Of late, he has several times expressed contempt for Peron and President Edelmiro Farrell, stating the latter "a puppet in Peron's hands" and accusing the former of holding the "two key posts of power" despite their refusal to join the 1943 movement.

Equimalt Drydock Used Again After 25 Years

H.M.C.S. Cormorick, sleek 1,800-ton frigate, is shown in this picturesque photograph as she nestled in the old Esquimalt Drydock, which has been restored to use. She is the first vessel to see the drydock in nearly 25 years. Recently installed electric pumps are capable of emptying the basin in less than three hours. In the background can be seen ways and buildings at Yarrows Ltd.

Order Legalizes Allied Control Of All Phases of German Life

BERLIN, Sept. 25 (AP).—Germany's conquerors acted formally today to end the last vestige of power that any German was in this century plunged the world into bloody strife.

The fourteenth proclamation that legalized Allied control of every phase of German life ordered abolishment of "all German land, naval and air forces the S.S. (Elite Guard) and the S.A. (Nazi Storm Troops) and the Gestapo with all their organizations, staffs and institutions."

MUST ABOLISH ALL ORGANIZATIONS

Included were all the groups which serve to keep alive the military tradition in Germany"—the Army General Staff, the officers' corps reserve corps, military schools, war veterans' organizations, and other military and quasi-military formations.

The proclamation—ordered widely disseminated so every German would know the full measure of his nation's defeat—also required the final desk warrant for the Nazi Party.

The party was "finally abolished and declared to be illegal," and, the proclamation added there would be no more secret organizations in Germany and no more racial discrimination.

"Done away with, also, was Germany's diplomatic corps.

By virtue of her unconditional surrender, the Allies told Germany that her diplomatic, consular, commercial and other relations with foreign states ended as of the day of the surrender, and all her representatives would be recalled.

"Allied representatives may require the withdrawal from Germany of neutral diplomatic, consular, commercial and other officials and members of neutral service missions," the proclamation added, and the Allies will "regulate all matters affecting Germany's relations abroad."

TIES TOGETHER MANY DIRECTIVES

The document tied together many directives issued piecemeal and already being enforced, committed to paper others enforced, and in turn surrender terms and instituted some new ones.

The second general proclamation addressed to the German people it was designed to impress upon them that Germany started the war last and must pay

PATTON DENIES HE IS LENIENT

BAD TOLZ, Germany, Sept. 25 (U.P.)—Lieut.-Gen. George Patton, commander of the United States Third Army in Bavaria today denied that he is being lenient to Nazis and declared that writers would be incomplete until they had all been uprooted from respectable positions and, in some cases, actively punished.

Gen. Patton was speaking at a conference which, he admitted had been called in case the outcry raised by certain remarks he made last Saturday should reflect on Eisenhower, American reprsentative on the Allied Control Council in Germany.

Gen. Eisenhower's policy, Gen. Patton said, adhered strictly to the Potsdam declaration providing for the complete prosecution of Nazidom of Germany, the raze of disciplined persons and providing Germany with the minimum for living standards

ATHENS, Sept. 25 (U.P.)—The Greek Council of Ministers tonight approved the Charter of the United Nations drafted at San Francisco.

Japanese Troops in Burma Surrender

RANGOON, Sept. 25 (Reuters).—Beaten Japanese in Burma began surrendering to British forces yesterday, the first batch coming in at Mokpalin near the Sittang River bend at Sittang, Southern Burma, and giving up their arms.

By nightfall many hundreds of Japanese had been ferried across the river and were lodged in prisoner of war cages at Waw. Within the next two weeks it is expected, two Japanese divisions, the 33rd and the 18th will have surrendered.

Beard Is Esquimalt Nominee

Victoria, Saanich Follow Formula

Commander C. T. Beard, Liberal candidate in the 1941 provincial election, who was defeated by Squadron Leader E. V. Finland, Progressive Conservative, last night was chosen Coalition candidate for Esquimalt riding. He defeated Squadron Leader Finland by a vote of 130 to 78, a vote later made unanimous at the suggestion of the defeated candidate.

Nomination of Commander Beard is the only break in the Coalition nominating formula in Greater Victoria, under which Victoria and the last Legislature were expected to be re-nominated.

Victoria's nominating convention chose Premier John Hart, Leader of the Coalition; W. J. Bee, K.C., and Mrs. Nancy Hodges, all elected to the last Legislature as Liberals. No other names were placed before the Liberal-Progressive Conservative convention.

In Saanich, Norman W. Whittaker, K.C. elected as a Liberal in 1941 and Speaker of the Legislature under the Coalition, was the unanimous choice of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives.

ESQUIMALT CONVENTION LIVELY AFFAIR

Esquimalt's convention was a lively affair which received its initial spark when Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, who polled 302 ballots in the 1941 provincial election, was defeated for the coalition agreement there should have been 302 ballot representing the Liberals and 302 ballots representing the Conservatives.

Someone has packed the meeting, declared M. A. Morrison, president of the Esquimalt Progressive Conservative Association, acting as chairman. A J. Rogers, Liberal Secretary, was equally emphatic.

Credentials were exahined in detail from that point on and finally the Liberal and Progressive Conservative delegates were seated.

Commander Beard was nominated by Dr. F. C. Wurtele, Liberal, and by two Progressive Conservatives, and seconded by Mrs. Wurtele and two Progressive Conservatives, R. H. Pooley and Mrs. Dorothy Cleaver. Reeve Thomas Hadfield,

To Dismantle Five Big German Plants

FRANKFURT-ON-MAIN Sept 25 (AP).—The Allied Control Council has decided that five big German industrial plants are dismantled for reparations among them were the Krauffen Bay Gerz Schafer Co. at Schaeffenberg, the Adam Opel plant at Rüsselsheim and the Brown-Boveri shipyard at Mannheim, one of the largest in Germany.

MacArthur Asserts Japan May Be Held for Years

TOKIO, Sept. 25 (U.P.)—General MacArthur declared today Japan might be occupied many years after the conquering force would be under United Nations direction—presumably if the people behave.

His denial of reports that occupation might end in six months came as Japan embarked on an economic transition that will erase her at least for the present as the world's greatest silk producer.

The United States Army announced that more than 30 suspected Japanese war criminals would be arrested in the same island prison in Tokio Bay that once housed allied war prisoners. It was understood that the first batch would include General Hideki Tojo in that Spartan prison cell.

The head of Domei stripped by General MacArthur of its monopolistic news service said he would re-commend to directors the disbanding of the agency, which has been accused of that once-spoke for the militarists.

A brother of Emperor Hirohito, in an interview pleaded for Americans sympathy "toward the Japanese masses that are now prostrated for peace."

The Japanese Ministry of Commerce and Industry said air raids hastened Japan's collapse cutting manufacturing capacity by "one half" in nearly half what it was in 1944 and reducing food and alcohol output almost two-thirds.

General MacArthur's statement on the issue of occupation was in the form of an elaboration of a signed article by Ted Dealey, president of The Dallas Tex., Morning News in which the supreme commander was quoted as saying the American occupation might be withdrawn in six months "if we are not too ruthless and cruel."

Local Butchers to Decide Today on Further Actions

Donald Gordon Declares at Vancouver That Rationing Will Stay as It Is Only Solution

Butchers of Victoria who closed their doors on Monday in protest against meat rationing, will meet at 3 p.m. today at the Coast Hardware Hall, 1418 Douglas Street, to consider further action.

Most of the independent butchers, members of the Vancouver Island Retail Meat Dealers' Association, took part in the strike. Other independent butchers, chain stores, and department stores with meat markets, continued to do business

However those who kept their shops open reported no unusual buying in the past two days

"Our customers continue to tell us we are doing the right thing," Arthur Wheeley, secretary of the association, said yesterday. "All our members are still abiding by the strike plan," he added.

No reply has been received from the telegram sent by the association here to Hon. J. L. Ilsley, in which suspension of rationing for 30 or 60 days was asked

It is expected that subjects to be discussed at the meeting today will include the telegram to Mr. Ilsley, the validity of new meat ration coupons tomorrow, and the lack of support of the strike from Fort-Island butchers, which was anticipated by the Victoria retailers

GORDON OUTLINES RATIONING TO STAY

Meanwhile at Vancouver Donald Gordon, national chairman of the Prices Board, said in an interview that meat rationing would stay because there was no alternative to it.

"It's going to stay because this is a vital issue now, Mr. Gordon said. Over in Britain and France and Belgium are millions who are suffering from malnutrition if we are going to look them in the eye in years to come you have got to make some sacrifices now.

"This decision to ration what we have left after the war what we ought to ship overseas was made by the Government itself, Mr. Gordon continued. "It is the official policy of the King Government and I agree with it. As a private citizen of Canada should be ronsratulated for having the courage to impose rationing.

Gordon's statement was made even as the Canada-wide protest of butchers against the rationing system spread to embrace some grocery stores in Montreal

ASK CITIZENS TO INTERVENE

Be rigid was the sharp-acting movement in the Montreal shields of the Canada-wide protest when there telegraphed Prime Minister Mackenzie King last night asking Federal intervention because all stores in our town have been forced to close by mob pressure. We are powerless to maintain order."

In Montreal gangs of anti-ration vigilantes—said to be butchers aligned in close-your-shop-or-else campaign against rationing system—toured the metropolitan area of the Dominion's greatest city and forced a rapid closing in the move.

Montreal became a city with few meat-serving stores today.

The town escaped violence but fire butchers, not even those who asked

Says Main Task to Consolidate Victory

LONDON, Sept. 26 (Reuters).—Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia declared tonight at a reception in his honor that the main task of the Council of Foreign Ministers was to consolidate victory and secure lasting peace for the whole world.

Molotov said it was not only vital for Britain and Russia that friendship should be strengthened, but for all peace-loving nations. The more many-sided and deeper the ties of cooperation between the more needful and useful would it be.

Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain attended the reception but spent some time chatting with M. Molotov, with whom he had been supported in disagreement at a council meeting.

Agree to Trieste Port Being Free

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP) Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Government, it was night agreed that the port of Trieste should be now an international zone and the city of Trieste should not be under the sovereignty of Italy or Yugoslavia.

The Yugoslavian Embassy issued a statement which said that A decision must be made to create a port of free town of Trieste and the port of Trieste.

Concerning the port which besides Yugoslavia serves a number of countries the statement said: Yugoslavia's view is that the greater part of this should constitute a free port open to all countries on an equal basis under international administration.

On the other hand, International Labor Organization (ILO) has a solution which Yugoslavia would never find completely acceptable."

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (CP).—Lord Rowallan, who succeeded Lord Somervell as Chief Scout of the British Empire, will visit Canada next summer, it was announced today.

Government Defeats Pair of Motions as Debate Nears End

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — The Commons tonight disposed of two motions of non-confidence in the Government—one without a recorded vote—and appeared ready to vote on adoption of the Speech from [illegible] servative party member presented a new amendment.

By a vote of 163 to 37, the Commons defeated the Progressive Conservative party's motion which accused the Government of failing to provide proper demobilization, reconversion and housing measures.

A Social Credit sub-amendment, which added that the Government had failed to provide for a prosperous peace for Canada and had failed to give Canadians a proper monetary policy, was defeated without a recorded vote.

Vote on the motion for adoption of the Throne Speech appeared to be the next move when Lieutenant-Colonel J. A. Ross (PC, Souris) rose to propose a new amendment. Colonel Ross said he presented his amendment as a result of the Government's wheat policy announced last week.

The amendment said that pending the establishment of more equitable prices for farm products, consideration should be given to setting prices at levels not less than 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is considered that point where prices for farm products are in fair relation to the price the farmer has to pay for goods and services. In some cases the period of 1926 to 1929 has been chosen to fix a parity for farm prices.

Under the wheat policy, the Government undertakes to pay not less than $1 a bushel for wheat during the five-year period ending September 30, 1945. The current export price has been fixed at $1.55 a bushel.

Participating in the debate prior [illegible] W. C. B. McClure (PC, Queens), T. J. Bentley (CCF, Swift Current) and C. W. Hodgson (PC, Victoria, Ont.).

At the earlier sitting members from Western Canada held the floor and from them came suggestions for changes in Canada's monetary, banking, immigration and agricultural policies.

The graves are in a new Allied military cemetery at Oosterbeek, near Arnhem, consecrated today.

Molotov Move Not Yet Clear

LONDON, Sept. 25 (Reuters) — The reported action of Foreign Commissar Molotov, of Russia at the "Big Five" Foreign Ministers' meeting in querying the nature of joint Allied control in Japan provoked varying interpretations tonight.

[illegible] tion describes it as a reaction to the recent "hands off Japan" attitude assumed in some United States circles, another holds the Russians were both surprised and disappointed at United States failure to support Soviet claims to Tripolitania when disposal of Italian colonies was under discussion.

Observers holding the last view believe Russia, assuming the United States attitude in the Mediterranean to be prompted by a desire for a free American hand in the Far East, wasted no time in making clear her intention to stake her claim in that theatre.

Annamite Forces Attacking

Major Outbreak at Saigon in Indo-China

SAIGON, Sept. 25 (AP).—An uprising of Annamite (Indo-Chinese) independent forces occurred today and British forces fired mortars and heavy machine guns in efforts to halt the disturbance.

The Annamites seeking immediate independence, have opposed the return of French rule to this Southeast Asia country, taken over by Japan at the fall of France.

Saigon, Allied occupation headquarters, was under a virtual state of siege, with Annamites firing from places of concealment at French, British and American forces.

Annamites seized the market place, two blocks from the hotel, during a major outbreak Monday and shut off all the city's power. British troops went to work at the power plant and hoped to restore electricity and power soon.

Some Annamites, who compose three-fourths of the country's population, marched in a body toward the French section Sunday, and French soldiers fired machine guns, wounding several of the natives.

A 8 p.m. curfew was imposed Sunday for the first time, and light, sporadic shooting was heard throughout the night.

British authorities said recently that their only role in Indo-China was to keep order until sufficiently large French military forces arrived to assume control.

A party of American correspondents was allowed to enter the city after dark, under protective guard of British troops.

The correspondents were informed that Japanese troops in Southern French Indo-China are still armed and guarding Allied property.

"Actually, the Japanese still are the most powerful force here," said one officer. "They are in charge and could clean out the Allied forces in one night. But their behavior is excellent and they are abiding by the surrender terms."

Speed Return of Prisoners of War

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 (CP) — Col. R. B. Malone, head of the Army Public Relations Branch, said in an interview tonight that the hospital ship Ss. Letitia now is en route to the Far East to repatriate Canadian liberated prisoners of war, and "I would say that the great majority of our men will be back in Canada within a matter of weeks, perhaps in only a month."

Col. Malone, who recently returned from Japan, said that the Canadian and United States Governments were pooling their hospital ship facilities in order to expedite the return of liberated prisoners of war ready to come home. Any Canadians ready to embark on an American ship that was not filled would be placed aboard for return to Canada.

Everything possible he said was being done to speed the return of the men "who battled so gallantly at Hongkong." But medical attention had to be considered and in many cases a long period of hospitalization would be necessary before the men would be fit to travel.

Liberal Nominated

THAIL, Sept. 25 (CP) — J. L. Webster, president of the Rossland-Trail Liberal Association, tonight was named Coalition candidate for Rossland-Trail riding in the October 25 provincial general election.

His selection came on a second ballot in which he defeated Ike Patton, of Trail, and Sqdn. Ldr. D. F. Horswell, of Castlegar, only other nominees.

The seat was held in the last Legislature by H. W. Herridge, who resigned as C.C.F. member last May to run in the Federal election and subsequently was elected in Kootenay West.

Russians "Too Busy"

TOKIO, Sept. 26 (Wednesday) (AP) — Jacob Malik, former Soviet Ambassador to Japan who was received Monday by Gen. MacArthur will leave tomorrow by plane for Moscow.

Both Mr. Malik and headquarters were silent on what was discussed Monday. A request for answers to submitted written questions brought the reply from a Malik aide, "too busy."

Surrender Envoy at Hongkong

Accompanied by a white flag bearer and an interpreter, a Japanese surrender envoy is walking to meet British officials during the negotiations for the surrender of Hongkong. The Crown colony was surrendered to Rear Admiral C. H. J. Harcourt, commander of a British Pacific Fleet task force.

Arab Spokesman Demands End To Jewish Move to Palestine

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP) — An Arab spokesman tonight demanded a halt to all Jewish immigration to Palestine, and almost simultaneously a Zionist group sharply criticized Britain for not lifting its limit on the number of Jews permitted to enter Palestine.

And from the actual scene in the Eastern Mediterranean, a Mutual Broadcasting Company correspondent reported from Cairo that conditions were fast approaching a showdown stage—perhaps a violent one.

"It is an open secret," said the correspondent, "that British troops are being sent into Palestine in ever-increasing numbers."

Viscount Gort, High Commissioner for Palestine and Transjordan, returned to Jerusalem today after several months in London and had this comment when advised of the Cairo broadcast:

"I'm afraid we in the Colonial Office have no statement to make."

Tewfik Saleh Husseini, acting chairman of the Palestine party, sent a message from Jerusalem to the Arab office in London, reiterating "basic Arab demands" which included stoppage of Jewish immigration and transfer of land to Jews, termination of the British mandate over Palestine, and formation of an independent Palestine national government bound to Britain by a treaty of alliance and friendship.

Sets World Record For Parachute Jump

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP) — The Moscow radio said Major Vassili Romanyak, Russian airman had set "a world record for a delayed parachute jump," leaping 12,800 metres (42,000 feet—almost eight miles) with his parachute opening when he was 800 metres (2,625 feet) from the ground.

The broadcast said an automatic release flicked the parachute open at the 800-metre altitude. The radio reported Romanyak fell through temperatures recorded at 33 degrees below zero (Centigrade) when at 32,800 feet.

Third Sea Lord Dies in England

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP) — Admiral Sir W. Frederick Wake-Walker, Third Sea Lord and controller of the Royal Navy, died yesterday. He was 57.

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced the death and said Wake-Walker would be remembered specially for his services at the evacuation of British troops from Dunkerque and as admiral of a cruiser squadron which sighted and trailed the German battleship Bismarck from the Denmark Straits to her death.

Says Wheat Price "A Distinct Jolt"

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — Announcement of a pegged wheat export price of $1.55 a bushel and a $1 floor under deliveries for the next five years was a "distinct jolt" to the people of the West, T. J. Bentley, C.C.F. member for Swift Current constituency, said tonight in the Commons.

Westerners did not object to a limit on the export price. The jolt was that the minimum price guaranteed on authorized deliveries meant a continuance of the quota system.

"We are not opposed to the quota system," he said.

But the provision of a minimum price on the quota system might mean that the open market price would hover around the minimum of $1 and if there were low grades the farmers might get so little they would be unable to finance their operations.

Mr. Bentley asked the Government to guarantee the farmers a minimum of $1.25 a bushel for all wheat produced or up to 280,000,000 bushels and give assurance that the wheat board would continue in operation and market all wheat.

KELLOGG'S ASTHMA RELIEF FOR ASTHMA & HAY FEVER

Revenue-Producing

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25 (CP) — Hon. J. S. McDiarmid, Manitoba Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, said tonight that since his department became a responsibility of the Provincial Government 15 years ago it had turned from a deficit-incurring operation into a self-sustaining one, by 1935 and during the last year revenue produced exceeded all expenditures by $450,000.

In an election campaign speech prepared for delivery over radio station CKY, he said yield of wealth has increased steadily with more development, protection and survey since he first became head of the department in 1932.

Film Suspended

LONDON, Sept. 25 (Reuters) — Max Milder, managing director of Warner Brothers, announced today the general release in Britain of the moving picture "Objective Burma" will be suspended after the picture completes its engagement at Warner Theatre here Thursday.

He said criticism leveled against the production, accusing the company of ignoring the major part played by the British Fourteenth Army in the Burma campaign caused the suspension.

Mr. Milder added that the protest had exaggerated what was intended solely as a piece of screen entertainment into "some sinister move against the friendship of our two nations," and said 40 per cent of the patrons had been British soldiers, not one of whom had raised any objection.

Seeks to Have World Security Council Permanent Seat Here

Special to The Daily Colonist

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 — The Canadian Government should take all steps in its power to induce the United Nations world organization to establish the permanent seat for [illegible] where all assembly sittings would be held, R. W. Mayhew, M.P., urged in a letter written to Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Mr. Mayhew also asks that steps be taken to make Victoria the first free port in Canada. He said tonight he had put forward these proposals "as a good Canadian and considering this to be my duty to Victoria which has so many advantages." Mr. Mayhew stated he had received no promises, but was optimistic of the possibilities of Victoria being made a free port.

"The home of the World Security Council should not be, in my opinion, in the country of one of the five big powers, but rather in the country of an intermediate power, and Canada is the leader of the middle powers," Mr. Mayhew said tonight.

"Victoria has distinct advantages over any other part of Canada as the site for the permanent seat [illegible] Pacific is an advantage as problems of the Pacific are very much to the forefront and will be in world affairs. When the Americans flew from Tokio to Chicago recently they passed over Vancouver Island, as did the Russians in their prewar trial flight, which is evidence of the central world geographical location, so to speak, of Victoria. Besides, it has an equable climate as well as many other advantages."

If Victoria is made a free port, it would mean industrial expansion for Victoria, especially for small industries in reassembling goods which arrived in bond and were afterwards shipped to other countries, Mr. Mayhew stated. "There is no free port on the American Pacific," he observed.

Packing Plant Workers Will Consider Strike

CALGARY, Sept. 25 (CP) — Packing plant workers here tonight stated they were "considering strike action in sympathy with retail butchers" unless rationing is confined to cold meats.

Such a strike would "probably affect all operations in the packing house industry, officers of two meat packing employees unions said in telegrams to Government officials, and this in turn "would cause a serious situation in our overseas commitments."

The telegrams were sent by officers of the Burns Local 104 and the Union Packing Company Local 105 of the Packinghouse Butchers and Allied Food Workers Union of Canada following a meeting in the Labor Temple.

They were addressed to Donald Gordon, W.P.T.B. head, Prime Minister King and Agriculture Minister James Gardiner.

Watched Kramer Beating Woman

LUENEBURG, Sept. 25 (Reuters) — Pretty 22-year-old Dora Szafran testified today she had seen Joseph Kramer beat a woman severely with a stick when the woman fell out of line in a working party at Oswiecim concentration camp in Poland.

Kramer, "the Beast of Belsen," and 44 of his associates faced the eighth day of their trial for murder and cruelty to prisoners at Oswiecim and Belsen in Germany. He and a number of the 44 accused were yesterday identified by witnesses at the trials here as having ill-treated prisoners at both camps.

The wife of Joseph Kramer arrived at Lueneberg today and it was learned she may give evidence on behalf of her husband. After hearing of his wife's arrival, Kramer looked almost buoyant as he entered the dock.

Cross-examining Miss Szafran on her account of the beating which she alleged she saw, Maj. L. W. W. Cranfield, defending officer, asked if she had been with other witnesses for the prosecution, while waiting to be called to give evidence.

Coalition Seeks Development Of Resources, Hart Declares

"British Columbia has great resources, and it is Coalition Government policy to develop those resources," declared Premier John Hart last night when he was nominated as a Coalition candidate in Victoria riding. Nominated also were W. T. Straith K.C., and Mrs. Nancy Hodges, elected with him in 1941 as Liberals and since that time members of the Coalition.

One of the highlights of the nominating convention, held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, was that three unsuccessful Progressive Conservative candidates in the 1941 election—Ald. D. D. McTavish, president of the Victoria Progressive Conservative Association, Ald. J. D. Hunter, M.D., and Waldo Skillings were proposers and seconders of their nominations. Others participating were H. W. Davey, president of Victoria Liberal Association, Mrs. J. L. Gates, president of B.C. Women's Liberal Association, and Mrs. H. f. McKenzie, president of the Victoria Liberal Women's Forum.

C. M. Parrott, Liberal vice-president, shared chairman's duties with Mr. Davey. Ald. John Worthington acted as returning officer.

Fifty delegates from each of the Liberal and Progressive Conservative Associations presented credentials, Percy Payne, credentials committee chairman, reported.

Premier Hart outlined the record of the Coalition Government and declared that the "Cabinet has functioned in greater harmony than any Cabinet in which I ever sat." It had operated with one common view—the best interests of the people, he said, and had aimed always at a business-like administration.

HOPES INDEPENDENTS WILL WITHDRAW

Asserting "everyone is entitled to his own view if he is sincere," Premier Hart said some opponents of Coalition had brought Independent candidates in the field. "They cannot hope to have these candidates elected, but they might do a great deal of damage" to Coalition candidates, he commented.

Premier Hart hoped that now these opponents of Coalition had registered their protest "wiser heads might prevail." He hoped they would withdraw.

The Premier stated the Coalition Government had increased old age pensions, mothers' allowances and payments to unemployables, had instituted a system of free medical care and drugs for pensioners and unemployables, had made workmen's compensation in British Columbia "superior to anything in Canada," had made large contributions in education and planned further action, and had taken action to develop power and to bring electricity to rural areas.

He said the Cameron report on education costs, now being studied, was "one of the most important" to reach the Government in years and promised a statement on it shortly. The Government was "looking forward" to the Sloan report on forestry. British Columbia "wants its forests managed favorably," he said.

Premier Hart stated it was the policy of the Coalition Government "to develop power throughout the Province to provide rural electricity and to develop the resources of the Province."

He stated again that if municipalities of lower Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland desired to acquire B.C. Power Corporation assets within their boundaries the Province would take over development and generation of power.

Premier Hart stated the Government was ready to embark on a $30,000,000 public works program, consisting of deferred work, as soon as materials and labor were available.

He said Dominion-Provincial relations, and recent Dominion proposals, were being studied, and British Columbia would be prepared with counter-proposals. Dr. Alvin H. Hansen, outstanding economist, was assisting Government experts.

Proposers and seconders of the candidates declared the Coalition Government had been "the best government British Columbia ever had."

FULL EMPLOYMENT AND REHABILITATION

At the Saanich convention, held in the Women's Institute Hall, Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., was unanimously nominated Coalition standard bearer. He told his audience the Coalition Government was aiming toward full employment and proper rehabilitation of returning servicemen.

His nomination was by K. M. Lewis, Liberal, and H. O. Oldfield, Progressive Conservative. The nominating procedure lasted less than ten minutes.

Chairmen of the meeting were E. Bell, Saanich Liberal president, and Maj. A. D. Macdonald, president of the North Saanich Progressive Conservative Association.

Mr. Whittaker noted the wartime record of the Coalition Government in British Columbia, and urged that the old parties unite to defeat the C.C.F., "the common enemy."

Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Mines, Trade and Industry, said: "Mr. Whittaker knows Saanich. He will be a good representative."

"During the past four years," Mr. Carson continued, "the Coalition Government has not been asleep to the many problems which will confront this province. We must maintain our standards, we must offer opportunity to our youth."

He outlined the general program of the Coalition Government, stressing need for improved transportation facilities, increased accommodation and expansion at the University of British Columbia, and rural electrification. He asserted rural electrification "is not an empty promise."

The highway being built into the Peace River district would make accessible "millions of tons of coal, and great quantities of metals." He foresaw a tremendous increase in population in British Columbia.

FAIL TO FOLLOW AGREED PROCEDURE

At the Esquimalt nominating convention in Colwood Hall, Commander C. T. Beard, former Liberal candidate, received a surprise nomination over Squadron Leader E. V. Finland, Progressive Conservative, who defeated Commander Beard in the 1941 election.

Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., Attorney-General, was the guest speaker. "Procedure here this evening has been a little contrary to the bargain made between the parties," said Mr. Maitland, Progressive Conservative leader in British Columbia.

He declared that the people faced more than an ordinary election. "It should be regarded as a statement of whether the people cared most for freedom or socialism."

Recalling that the C.C.F. had consistently refused to join in a united front for the successful prosecution of the war, he charged that party had put selfish political interest ahead of the good of the Province.

Urging active support of the Coalition candidate, he said unless every effort was put forth there was a danger of losing the freedoms which had been dearly bought during the past 100 years.

Commander Beard is a well-known Victoria naval officer who was formerly in command of the naval dockyard here. He won recognition early in the war when H.M.C.S. Prince Robert, which he commanded, captured the German freighter Weser.

Invalided out of the navy in 1941, after 32 years of service, he has since operated a farm at Cowichan Station.

This railroad station in Yokohama was put out of business by accurate bombings by B-29 Superfortresses. All that remains now of this once busy centre are the skeletons of railroad coaches, blasted freight cars, twisted steel rails and bomb-gutted station house.

Expect Rapid Return of All R.C.A.F. Men

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—More than 36,000 R.C.A.F. personnel have been repatriated from Europe since May 1 of this year and if the present rate of return is maintained it is expected that, except for those required for occupation air force, all Canadian Air Force men will have been brought home by next March 31, Air Minister Gibson said tonight in a statement.

In addition to the 36,000 already home, another 1,000 airmen were expected to reach Canada by Oct. 1, the statement said, adding that repatriation was "proceeding at a satisfactory rate" with full advantage being taken of all shipping accommodation.

The Minister said his statement was occasioned by reports that Radar personnel were not being repatriated as fast as others. In answer to this he said that because 3,580 of the 4,550 R.C.A.F. Radar personnel overseas were serving with R.A.F. units when V-E Day came, the initial rate of repatriation for them was not as high as the average "but this situation has been overtaken."

The disposition of Radar personnel outside Canada did not permit repatriation before V-E Day but since then 1,068 Radar personnel had come home. It was anticipated that by the end of November all Radar personnel from R.A.F. units will have been returned to the R.C.A.F., "at which time all those low priority personnel required for the occupation force will have been selected and the balance will then be available for repatriation."

In computing priority for repatriation, the statement said one point was allowed for each month's service in Canada and two points for each month overseas. These priorities were applied to each individual trade and no longer required for the occupation forces were disbanded, low priority personnel were transferred to units continuing to operate, thus permitting the repatriation of those in the higher priorities.

QUEBEC, Sept. 25 (CP)—Retirement of J. A. McNeil as general manager of The Canadian Press and appointment of Gillis Purcell, assistant general manager, as his successor, were announced tonight by Senator W. A. Buchanan, president of the national news-gathering co-operative following a meeting of the board of directors.

Mr. McNeil, 69, has headed The Canadian Press staff since 1939, when he came to the post after many years as managing editor of The Montreal Gazette. Mr. Purcell, 40, joined The Canadian Press in 1928 and has occupied executive positions at head office in Toronto since 1931, with the exception of a period overseas as public relations officer for the 1st Canadian Corps.

Justice Bushnell was a member of a committee of four American Masons who have just conducted a study of problems of Freemasonry in Europe.

Attacks British Credits Request

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (CP)—Representative Harold Knutson lashed out again today at "the British" who, he asserted, were coming "tin cup in hand" for United States credits to aid in the postwar rehabilitation of the United Kingdom.

The Minnesota Republican's outburst in the House of Representatives attracted little attention but emphasized the desirability of early publication of the details of Britain's economic position.

These details were presented last week to American officials by the British economic mission headed by Lord Keynes, noted economist, and were to have been made public along with comparative United States figures.

It was learned today that the State Department does not approve the idea of publishing such figures side by side and it appeared likely that the British statistics will be published alone some time in the next fortnight.

If published in full the figures would show in detail the economic war effort of the United Kingdom and her Commonwealth Allies and the condition in which that all-out bid for victory left the Mother Country.

Labor Council Wants Facts on Meat Shipments

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP)—Delegates to the Vancouver Labor Council (C.C.L.) at a meeting here tonight asked that Donald Gordon, national chairman of the Prices Board, supply them with further information on whether Government or private interests will handle the meat supplies for Europe's hungry millions.

Earlier today Mr. Gordon in referring to meat rationing said "it's here to stay because this is a moral issue now. Over in Britain and France and Belgium are millions who are suffering from malnutrition . . . if you are going to look them in the eye in years to come you have got to make some sacrifices now."

"If the Government is going to handle the meat and make a profit on it I have no objection," said W. L. White, president of the Boilermakers' Union, who moved the resolution. "But if the packing houses are going to handle it and make the profits then I have serious objections."

John Turner, council secretary, also wanted to know who was going to handle the meat after it leaves Canada.

The council also went on record as supporting the strike of automobile workers in the Ford Motor Co. of Canada in Windsor, Ont. It was voted to donate $100 to the strike fund after hearing a special circular letter on the situation from C.C.L. executive secretary Norman S. Dowd.

Support Dr. Green

CRANBROOK, Sept. 25 (CP)—The Cranbrook District Liberal Association at a meeting here tonight endorsed a motion to support the re-election of Dr. F. W. Green as member for Cranbrook riding in the October 25 provincial election.

Dr. Green, member of the Legislature since 1941 when he was elected as a Conservative, was nominated by the Progressive Conservative Association here last night to seek re-election as a Coalition member.

Scientists Offer No Hope of Defence Against Atomic Bomb Attacks

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 25 (AP)—Scientists say "that as scientists they can offer no hope of a specific defence against the atomic bomb," Howard Blakeslee, Associated Press science editor, told a service club here today.

Outlining attitude scientists to whom he has been talking, Mr. Blakeslee said they believed that "by using more bombs, larger bombs and more efficient bombs it will be possible in the near future to completely destroy the bulk of population, industry and military strength of any nation within a few days . . . moreover aviation and rocket developments might enable this to be done in a few hours without the possibility of effective retaliation."

"Those who have discussed defence with me," the Pulitzer Prize-winning writer said, "say that as scientists they can offer no hope of a specific defence against the atomic bomb."

The History of the Shoe

In France, towards 1800, we find a strong trend away from the extremely-high heel and the classic Greek costume. Women return to the use of light shoes with low heels, and Mme Récamier is reputed to have had a pair weighing less than half an ounce. Other fashionable ladies wear open sandals and adorn their bare toes with diamonds.

Belated Facts Emerge

The people of Canada won a moral victory yesterday when the Federal Government was forced to explain in Parliament—and for the first time that we have noted—what is Canada's real undertaking in meat exporting. Mr. Ilsley's explanation in Parliament should have been made long before. Had it been, there would have been a good deal more sympathy and patience with the plans proposed, although that does not mean that those plans are the best that can be found. On the contrary, Mr. Ilsley's figures show clearly that Canada exported 860,000,000 lb. of meat last year without rationing and has made commitments with regard to a smaller quantity—789,000,000 lb.—for this year.

Here, stripped of verbiage, is the picture Mr. Ilsley has painted. Last year Canada exported 129,000,000 lb. of beef, 692,000,000 lb. of pork (which the people refrained from buying, voluntarily), and 39,000,000 lb. of canned meats. These were actual shipments. This year, by virtue of an undertaking given quite recently by Canada at an Unrra conference, Canada increased her pledges of exports for this year to a total of 789,000,000 lb.; of which 225,000,000 lb. is desired in beef, 450,000,000 lb. in pork, and 114,000,000 in canned meats. In short, pork exports will be reduced and those of beef and canned meats increased.

It was by virtue of this undertaking given recently, and belatedly disclosed to the people, that the Government decided upon the resumption of meat rationing, as "the only way." Rationing is not "the only way," nor in the minds of many is it even the better way. But here was the spur driving the Government, and under them, the War Prices Board. It will be noticed that the seven and a half per cent reduction has now climbed to twelve per cent, in Mr. Ilsley's statement. Still the Government do not explain why the butchers' offer of a twenty per cent reduction stands refused.

Involved Plan

Touching on the relative merits of voluntary action or compulsory rationing, The Vancouver Daily Province commented editorially on Monday as follows:

"The meat rationing plan the public wants, and the dealers can make most effective toward a proper distribution of limited supplies, is the simplest possible, the least disturbing to normal trade. The meat rationing the authorities at Ottawa decided upon, by contrast, was the most complex possible, with every last ounce of every meat carcase calculated to its coupon value in decimal points. It is really amazing that in the long years of rationing everything, including meat, the Ottawa authorities should have produced the fantastic thing that brought about disorder in the meat trade."

The general public will concur substantially with that. The issue was never what meat we shall send to Europe, including to those to whom this land stands so deeply indebted in the United Kingdom. The issue was, and is now, the method employed. We are making progress when the Government condescend to inform the people, and Parliament is the right place to discuss this matter and to thresh it out. This is a physical matter and not a moral one. The only moral issue we can find in the case is the right of the people to a proper account from their Government of what is proposed to be done. We commend Mr. Ilsley for having spoken. Parliament now is better apprised of the matter, and there the people still have some voice.

Bacon Volunteered

It was the patriotism of the people of Canada, and all of them, which made the tremendous shipments of bacon and pork possible to the United Kingdom during the whole term of the war. The same people are ready to do as much again in any direction just so soon as the need is made plain. In bacon Canadians simply did not buy and that was superior to any form of rationing that could be devised. It is idle in the face of that to describe rationing as "the only" method. Quite clearly it is not. Let Parliament declare the need and find the means, with the people as full partners to that. That is the democratic way.

How much better off the Government and the nation, would have been if the former had said frankly as soon as the changed quota was agreed upon something like this: "Look here, our meat export plans will have to be altered. We will require for export quantities of beef and more canned meats in the last quarter of this year than anticipated. In this we will need the co-operation of all. Don't buy beef, unless you must." There is a still simpler way. The Government could earmark for export all beef until the quota is matched, and free the remainder to retail outlets as before. Had either course been adopted this conflict would not have arisen, and the Administration would stand in the better graces of the people than today it does.

Street Lighting

The Victoria City Council is to be commended on the action taken to make a start with a more adequate street lighting system for the community. The $3,700 set aside for a start with the program might well have been more, but it will at least give some indication of how effective these proposals are. As we understand it, eighteen new light standards are to be installed on Douglas Street, six to the block, and forty additional lights in the residential areas. Also, overgrown trees are to be trimmed, where they now mask street lighting.

The corporation is making no mistake in commencing its program to improve the present lighting in residential areas. Many of these areas are woefully dark yet. There are long blocks, tree-lined, with darkness for most of the way and a dim circle of light at either end. It is probably common ground that the southeast-central part of the city is in a deplorable condition in that respect. Forty residential lights distributed over a circle with a radius of two miles will not make much impression on the general lighting of the community, but it will be a pledge to citizens that there will be more to follow.

Such a program, if persisted in doggedly, would in time help to make Victoria an adequately, and perhaps also a brightly, lighted city. That would be a fine, permanent investment. It would increase business and residential values, make more effective the policing of the community, and furnish an attraction of both home and tourist importance.

What we would suggest is that the corporation make as much headway with that program as the means and the circumstances permit. If necessary, a money by-law put to the people at the Winter elections would, we believe, be well received. This thing is worth doing and worth doing well. Nor should we wait ten years for a community-wide result.

Standard Time

Standard time will return for Canada on Sunday, with two midnights or whatever may be the precise formula chosen to put back the advanced, wartime clocks. Ottawa's decision in this has been a reasonable one, and one which commends itself to most people. There is not much "daylight" to be saved after September by the present arrangement. It will be hoped, however, that the principle of national uniformity on the practice will be preserved in some form, and that if Canada resorts to daylight saving seasonally in the future it will be by universal means.

It will be strange for a while reverting to sun time. The sun goes to bed early these days, darkness coming over the land before supper time. At the other end of the day, the morning the sun rises late, but not so late but that it is still ahead of many human beings. The dividend of the extra hour at this week-end will make up for the hour that was lost when wartime was adopted.

Pleasing some and displeasing others, war time had its uses in the last few years. It permitted a volume of work across Canada by daylight that otherwise would have had to be done under artificial light. In many instances, however, the nights were used anyway. Ships were built, planes were made, and shell casings filled in the small watches of the night. Happily, standard time can be put to less emergent needs. Farmers, families with young children, and a number of others especially will be pleased, and none, perhaps, hurt by the change.

There will be some questions. Will curfew sound at 8:30 p.m. or 9:30 p.m. standard time? Youth will want to know.

Promotions

Changes in the directing staff of the Victoria Fire Department involve promotions from within. Electing to retire on superannuation after twenty-six years' service with the Department, Fire Chief Alex Munroe will carry with him the good wishes of the community. Under him Victoria established one of the best records for cities of this size in Canada, with a per capita fire loss among the lowest anywhere in the country.

Deputy Chief Joseph Raymond, who has seen thirty-five years with the Victoria Fire Department, will succeed as the new chief, and with him as his deputy will be Capt. "Bob" Brindle, thirty-three years in the service. All three officers have given able service to the community. The principle of promotion from within is being followed, and rightly so.

Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,

Th' applause of list'ning senates to command,
The threats of pain and ruin to despise,

Their growing virtues, but their crimes confin'd;
Forbad to wade through slaughter to a throne,

"Donald Ducks"

By L. S. B. SHAPIRO
North American Newspaper Alliance

LONDON, Sept. 25 (By Wireless).—The last and probably the most chilling of the untold stories of "D"-Day last year may now be told.

Correspondents who hit the Normandy beaches with the first assault waves on June 6, 1944, were not permitted to write the story of "swimming tanks" and of the suicide squads that manned them early that morning. This week the weapon was removed from the secret list, and now it is possible to reveal the only real surprise we hurled at the Germans on that historic day.

For ten months before "D"-Day, eight picked battalions of tanks—three British, three American and two Canadian — rehearsed on two English lakes with Sherman tanks floated in huge canvas bags. Officially called duplex-drive tanks, they were nicknamed "Donald Ducks" by their crews. They were designed to propel themselves to the beach and to engage the German shore installations 15 minutes before our infantry landed. These tanks were General Eisenhower's greatest concern when he gave the signal for the attack despite the threatening weather.

I watched the tanks on "D"-Day. From the lowered ramps of tank-loading craft two miles off shore, they dropped into the heavy sea. The crews knew they had less than even chances of making shore as huge waves pounded against the inflated canvas fabric which held the 34-ton monsters afloat. The unexpected storm that blew up that morning proved an even greater threat than the enemy. The tanks I watched were manned by the First Canadian Hussars and the Fort Garry Horse Royal Canadian Artillery. They were making for the beach between Bernieres and Courseulles.

Some of the tanks sank as soon as they were launched. Others were swamped half way to shore. Out of 36 Canadian swimming tanks launched, 14 were lost beneath the waves, with the greater part of their crews. But the remaining 22, whose treads began to churn in the shallows and came up out of the sea like prehistoric monsters, gave the defending Nazis the shock of their lives. The Germans were panicked even before our infantry landing craft came through the smokescreen.

Six tanks were directed at a cluster of permanent shore batteries commanding the entire approaches to the Bernieres-Courseulles area. It was essential that these batteries be knocked out before a single infantry landing craft hit the beach. Only two of the original six tanks assigned to the task reached shore. These two challenged the batteries at 30-yard range and crippled them before they themselves were destroyed by German anti-tank guns. When I came ashore I saw these two tanks—pierced with many holes and burning—their cannon still pointing toward the silenced Nazi batteries. The bodies of Canadian tankmen had been washed ashore and lay close to the bodies of German gunners.

Among the British, American and Canadian swimming-tank squadrons the casualties averaged 70 per cent—among the highest of any tank battle of the entire war. But it was estimated on the evening of June 6 that each tank man who had perished had saved the lives of ten of his comrades in the infantry.

"BRIDE OF FRANKENSTEIN"

Plan Automatic Aids for Fogbound Planes

By E. C. SHEPHERD
North American Newspaper Alliance

LONDON, Sept. 25 (By Cable).—The air forces in Great Britain and the United States are trying to decide what system to use to help aircraft find a way to port in thick weather. The choice of the blind approach system during the war was influenced by the fact that many aircraft had to carry radar apparatus and the authorities hesitated to overload wartime crews with directional aids.

As peacetime training can envisage higher standards of skill than were possible in war, radar and something else may find a place in aircraft which must carry out operations in poor visibility. The United States Army Air Forces seems recently to have decided not to use radar for the blind approach, but that decision may be reversed. The Royal Air Force has still to choose.

The decision may ultimately be influenced by the possibility of linking the beam system with the automatic pilot to reduce human error to a minimum. There seems little prospect at present of allying radar mechanically with the automatic pilot, but the conjunction of the beam and gyroscope control has been accomplished experimentally.

An aircraft fitted with an automatic pilot and appropriate radio receivers has slid down a four-mile-long glide path from a height of 1,500 feet to the landing runway without a human pilot operating the controls. An aircraft cannot yet land by these automatic means. But a mechanical approach has been made, and one day we may get an automatic pilot capable of pulling the stick back at the right moment and causing the aircraft to land.

The question agitating both air forces is whether temporarily to overload the air crew with the beam approach system plus radar, in the hope of getting automatic landings in fog, or whether to plump for radar for all purposes—navigation, avoidance of collision and the blind approach. The second alternative is more attractive because responsibility can be removed from the air crew to a specially trained crew with apparatus on the ground.

There are at present two such ground control stations in use by the R.A.F. in Great Britain and two others are operated by the R.A.F. in Europe. All are being tried by the Transport Command. Under this system, the pilot groping towards the landing ground merely does as he is told. He is picked up at any point up to 50 miles away. He will thus be taken in charge only if he requests help.

Thereafter he is marshaled so that he takes his proper turn, is told what courses to fly, is brought in to the glide path, told his distance from time to time, warned if too high or too low, reminded about his under-carriage and flaps, and is gradually brought in so that he arrives over the runway at a height of 100 feet.

This is all done by ground control with the help of radar detection similar to that used to locate enemy aircraft in wartime. If the pilot can see the runway from a height of 100 feet, he can usually land. Experience suggests that the average pilot making a blind approach is glad to be relieved of responsibility and careful to follow instructions from the ground. Their accuracy depends on the skill of a well-trained team of five operators in the control post.

Two of them have charge of the radar-scanning screens to which the aircraft appears as blobs of light. Those two are responsible for picking up and identifying the aircraft and putting it on a safe course until the approaching channel is clear and then for turning the aircraft by easy degrees into that funnel. Two other operators watch it on other screens after it has been brought into the approach channel, and move indicators to follow any deviation from that set course and the appropriate rate of descent.

The movements of these indicators cause the central dial in front of the controller to record the course, distance and height of the incoming aircraft. On the basis of what is shown by the control dial, the controller tells the pilot what to do. I have made the approach by this system in weather that was not too bad, and we came out over the runway. The team at the ground control consisted of five officer-instructors.

I have also made the approach by the non-radar system in which high-frequency radio beams are used. One is the ordinary directional beam of prewar days, the other is a similar beam tilted up to give the glide path.

Each operates a needle in the cockpit. By matching both needles, the pilot not only maintains the course but descends at the proper rate. That system also worked.

Many considerations are involved in making the choice, among them the question of radio wave-bands in the crowded ether; but it will be important because the needs of commercial air transport cannot be ignored. The air forces will be much more concerned in air transport in the future than in the past and can hardly expect to keep their own transport wholly isolated from civil transport.

Diplomats Confer At Empress Hotel

Two diplomats who, in their own words, "chased each other all the way across the country," finally met yesterday as guests at the Empress Hotel. They were Dr. Eduardo L. Vivot, Minister Plenipotentiary of the Argentine Republic, and Dr. W. A. Wynes, official secretary in the office of the High Commissioner for Australia, who were acquainted through their work at Ottawa.

"I have been a step behind you all the way from Ottawa," Dr. Wynes said to his colleague. "We can do a lot of our business together here in Victoria."

Dr. Vivot arrived with his wife, en route to Seattle and San Francisco. He will then proceed to his next post, in Stockholm, Sweden, after having spent one year and ten months at Ottawa.

"I hate to leave Canada," he remarked. "It is very much like my country. I must say that your war effort has been superb, both in training and arming your fighting forces, and in leading the world in preventing inflation."

"I agree with Dr. Vivot," Dr. Wynes said. "Australia has nothing but gratitude for the way her men were trained under your British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. Incidentally, by your wonderful hospitality shown to Australian airmen, you made them all ambassadors for Canada."

Dr. Wynes pointed out that 300 Australians who trained here married Canadian girls, and that his office is making arrangements for the first 100 to leave for Australia. He arrived here, accompanied by his wife, to address the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, and will remain until Tuesday.

"Although Canada and Argentina produce much the same products, there is no reason why trade cannot be conducted between the two nations," Dr. Vivot said. "Because of reversed seasons, a brisk trade has always been carried on with British Columbia apples and Argentina corn, and many other products," he stated.

Dr. Vivot will leave here Friday.

Convention Here For Postmasters

Members of the British Columbia Branch, Canadian Postmasters' Association, will open their annual two-day convention at the Empress Hotel this morning. They will be welcomed by Mayor Percy E. George and George H. Gardiner, postmaster.

Today's program will include resolutions, a tour of the Legislative Buildings, and dinner at the Empress Hotel. On Thursday reports will be received from the resolutions committee, credentials committee and district representatives. Election of officers and a dinner at 7 p.m. will close the convention.

The association was for the first time invited this year to send a delegate to a postal conference held at Ottawa on September 17, on the invitation of W. J. Turnbull, deputy postmaster-general. A report will be given at the convention.

WOMEN AND JOBS

Sir,—I wish to write in a complaint about the ever increasing number of married women who are taking over all, or most, of the available jobs in and around Victoria.

The average married woman has a husband who is earning quite sufficient to support her. Under these circumstances I fail to see why a single girl who must support herself must go without work while the married women earn a little extra spending money.

I understand that some women must work because for some reason or another their husbands are incapable of earning enough to keep them. With them I have no quarrel. All I ask is that it be made compulsory for married women to prove that they really need a job before they are given it.

CHLORINATION

Sir,—After a visit to Vancouver and North Vancouver, I find that the people of these two cities have been drinking this water for 40 years. Dr. Ernest P. Fewster, M.D., of Vancouver, stated to The Vancouver Sun of September 22, 1945: "In nearly 40 years practice of medicine in Vancouver I have had no case of typhoid that originated in this city from our water supply. In contrast to this since the poisoning of our water by chlorine during the past four years, I have treated more cases of sore throat, tonsils and laryngitis, besides any number of stomach and abdominal pains, nausea, indigestion and constipation, than I have ever had in double such a period before. Chlorinated water is poison. These are all symptoms of mild chlorine poisoning. Chlorine is the active and poisoning principle in our deadliest antiseptics."

Dealing with Victoria, our sanitary inspector, when I asked the question have we had any evidence of pathogenic bacteria (typhoid bacteria), states—not any trace from our water supplies during the time I have been sanitary inspector covering over 28 years. In an interview with Dr. Cleveland, of the Water Board, Vancouver, I received the answer as follows: "We are, owing to a fire burning up our records, only able to go back some 24 years, and in no case have we found any danger from our water supply."

Bacteria are minute forms of life that are everywhere, a few forms are dangerous, the tremendously vaster number are beneficial to our water supply, without these latter nothing on earth could live. And so, chlorine not only is a poison in our water but it also destroys these bacteria which are beneficial to our water supply, hence, the water (which these same doctors advise drinking in large quantities) now supplied is robbed of all these benefits, the beneficial effect, the chlorine having killed and destroyed it, and so we are told by some doctors that, for fear something may happen that which for 40 years has never happened, to drink water that will have no beneficial effect upon our system added to which is chlorine (and ammonia to take the taste away) and we are supposed to knuckle down to these egotistic decrees.

German Documents Disclose Plan for England Invasion

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

BERLIN, Sept 25 (CP) —Documents discovered here reveal that the Germans in the Autumn of 1940 were preparing to strike at Southern and Southeastern England with 22 divisions and with 17 divisions in re-

Attack in that area of Britain would have involved Canadian troops within a day or so of the landing

The mystery surrounding German plans for invasion of Britain is gradually being unravelled and although no one here will say for certain that the final operation order has been uncovered, this appears to have been the general plan:

The initial attack was to be carried out by the 16th and 9th German Armies, forming Army Group "A" The 16th Army was to sail from Ostend, Dunkerque, Calais, south of the Somme River, to land on the Kentish coast between Margate and Hastings. The 9th was to leave Dieppe, Le Havre and Caen to make an assault on the British coast between Brighton and Portsmouth.

Airborne landings were planned north of the Romney Marshes which lie between Folkestone and Hastings, on the South Downs behind Brighton and on Beachy Head east of Brighton

After the landing of Army Group ... Army Group B comprising an enlarged 6th Army, was to sail from Cherbourg to land west of Bournemouth in Weymouth Bay

PLANNED BIG FORCE INFANTRY DIVISIONS

The landing forces of the two army groups was to comprise 11 infantry and two mountain divisions with a mobile force of six armored, two motorized and one S.S. division.

The army and the army group reserve set aside for the invasion totaled nine infantry divisions and eight additional infantry divisions available from the general headquarters reserve, the discovered documents revealed.

The Germans even had a secret weapon—their six-barrelled "nebelwerfer" mortar

The invasion plan called for the two beachheads of Army Group "A" to link up and the first main objective was a line running northeast from Portsmouth toward Aldershot and Guildford, then eastward to Leatherhead, where Canadian headquarters was located, and on through Caterham to Gilbury on the Thames Estuary

British and Canadian forces were to be smashed in the hedgerow country of Kent, Sussex and Surrey, and the Germans then intended to drive ahead to their second objective—a line from Colchester on the east to the mouth of the Severn north of Bristol on the west

London was to be cut off and strong mobile forces would then break through to occupy the important coastal towns and industrial areas of the Midlands

The code name for the invasion was to be "sea lion"

WARNING ORDERS ISSUED IN 1940

These enemy documents disclose that the earliest top-secret warning order from German General Headquarters to the Sixteenth Army was sent out August 17, 1940, but no "D" Day was given in the warning The order merely said the "date will be set later." An invasion operation order prepared by Army Group "A" in September was also found.

During this threatening period of late August and September, Gen. A G L. McNaughton was commanding the composite British-Canadian 7th Corps, which was the Southeast England anti-invasion force

A fully-equipped 1st Canadian Division stationed in the Caterham-Reigate area due north of Brighton was prepared to launch immediate counter-attacks against any landing The 2nd Canadian Divions had just arrived from Canada and was at Aldershot. It would have been committed rapidly for action because defending forces were extremely thin throughout the area at that time.

If the Germans had launched their invasion it was likely they would have employed a force for the landings about the same in strength as the Allies used in Normandy on "D" Day. The Nazis had 13 divisions earmarked for the actual landing operation, along with airborne forces totaling probably one and a half divisions About nine divisions probably would have gone ashore the first day

The Allies used nine divisions on "D" Day—three airborne and six infantry.

For the first few days after the projected Nazi "D" Day, the Germans would have hurled in about three more divisions—again similar to the plan carried out by the Allies four years later.

The reserve available to the Allies for long-range buildup in Normandy, however, was far superior to that planned by the Germans.

Expect Newsprint Controls to End

MONTREAL, Sept 25 (CP) — All Government controls over Canada's newsprint industry are expected to be lifted by the end of this year, and the industry's leaders hope they can be producing nearly all they want by next June

Canada's pulp and paper industry is a $655 000,000 business—the biggest in the Dominion. Just less than half of this capital is estimated to be American, and Canadian mills supply three-fourths of all newsprint used in the United States.

Government officials charged with administering the controls placed over newsprint production and distribution during the war are to meet with industry leaders in Montreal October 10 and at that time expect to agree on ending the last controls by December 31.

Allocation controls are the principal ones still in effect All regulations limited the amount of power which could be used for newsprint production were lifted soon after "V-E" Day Newsprint production has climbed steadily since

Chief limitation on newsprint production now is lack of pulpwood, the raw material, and the chief concern regarding next year's production is the amount of labor which will be available to cut wood this Winter

The Government this week called for 50,000 more men to work in the woods this Winter in lumbering and pulpwood cutting All Labor Department offices were instructed to attempt to recruit an all-time record number of men in the woods this year.

Says Ottawa Hard On Civil Servant

OTTAWA, Sept 25 (CP) — Contrasting the life of an Ottawa civil servant with that in British Columbia lumber camps, John L. Gibson, Independent member of the House of Commons for Comox-Alberni, finds the civil servant coming off a poor second best.

"I know the life in the camps and now I have seen life in Ottawa," he said "Your civil servants would be a lot better off felling timber than pounding typewriters and filing papers in your temporary buildings

Mr Gibson claims he has been losing weight since his arrival in the capital "If you do manage to get into a restaurant after shuffling in line for half an hour, they starve you on unbelievably small portions."

Fewer Fish This Year

More than 4,500,000 pounds of fish will have been brought to Victoria by packers of the Kyuquot Trollers' Co-operative Association when Co-operator IV arrives here tomorrow morning with 15 000 pounds of salmon, it was reported yesterday by George Greenwell, secretary The total is nearly 100,000 pounds less than last year

Co-operator III left for the West Coast yesterday morning to pick up last catches of the season The load is expected to be small, and will include cod

Ships of the association fleet will operate under charter during the Winter Each vessel will be tied up for three or four weeks to undergo general overhaul and repairs here and at Vancouver.

Directors of the association will gather here in November to make plans for the annual meeting early next year.

The Worst Inflation came after the last war
NOW is the Real Testing time ...

The only controls that are being maintained are those that aid the production of needed supplies and their speedy and fair distribution to the public, and which prevent an inflationary price rise.

As soon as conditions warrant, these will be dropped.

Until industry gets back to normal production, price ceilings, rationing and some controls are a necessary safeguard for everyone of us.

Keep them working.

Attractive Woman Doctor Member Of Britain's Labor Government

LONDON, Sept 25 (CP)—Dr Edith Summerskill, parliamentary under-secretary to the ministry of food in the new Labor Government, will not be able to work on all of her pet subjects while she is in the office

Her interests range from wages for housewives to venereal disease and birth controls Currently she is pushing an anti-queue campaign [illegible] bit when you take office, you know, she said a little wistfully, as she sat in her room in the ministry gazing out at the trees on Portman Square. "Some of the things I've been working on I'll have to leave for a while. But queueing, which as a doctor I consider very damaging to women's health, is something which is definitely concerned with us here "

To help expectant mothers escape the shopping queues she suggested that special ration books could entitle them to preferred service, saying

"It's dreadful to see these poor women with their heavy baskets, standing for hours to get their rations "

Ardent feminist, brilliant gynaecologist, pioneer in birth control and a tilter at almost every social evil, Edith Summerskill still manages to combine a happy family life with a most active career, and look extremely charming while she does it

Very tall and slim, with short dark hair carefully waved and a well-cut beige suit decorated with an old-fashioned clip she looked what she is renowned to be—the most attractive woman member of parliament.

Dr Summerskill is 44 years old She is the only woman in the last parliament who gave her age in "Who's Who" The new under-secretary for food brings a physician's knowledge to her work, knowledge which the ministry made use of when she was a member of one of Lord Woolton's advisory committee early in the war.

MEDICAL FAMILY

"I've got medicine in my blood," [illegible] and I am a doctor and my daughter, who is 13 now, is going to be a doctor. The health of the country has really been wonderful during the war, but there are signs of increasing anaemia, especially among married women, who give the best part of their rations to the children. You can't stop them, they always have—it's maternal instinct, but it's not good.'

Although the new Government has taken over at a pretty difficult time, she says, "with the whole of Europe to be fed, Dr Summerskill is not pessimistic about the coming Winter

"We can't stand by and let Europe starve," she said emphatically, "and the women of England wouldn't want it. We've got it easier. Think of all the fish which have been lying in the ocean for five years. And fish is full of protein "

Married to another doctor—Jeffrey Samuel, who has come back from five years' military service, mostly as a psychiatrist at Aldershot—Dr. Summerskill has a boy of 17 and a girl of 1?

Besides her parliamentary work, Dr Summerskill has a thriving medical practice and is regular adviser at a birth control clinic She is keeping her practice, but says she will have to have somebody to help her do the routine work now that she is in office.

GIRL HAS TWO TO CHOOSE FROM

Dear Miss Fairfax

The girl I have been going with for about nine months has recently become acquainted with a young man who works in her office He is a discharged soldier Although she has never gone out with him, she sees him every day and he drives her back and forth to the office in his car. She's always talking about him

I told her I'm very much in love with her, but she can't decide which one of us she loves best She doesn't want me to stop seeing her, as she's afraid that if I leave she may find I'm the one she loved after all But that doesn't satisfy me I might keep on going with her and then find that she loves the other young man, which would leave me "holding the bag "—Undecided

It looks to me as if this young woman is more in love with love than with either of you two boys Under the circumstances I'd try not to take the affair too seriously Why not enlarge your circle of acquaintances by one or more attractive girls? Take them out occasionally, and I think it might be helpful as a solution to your problem

NOT SURE WHICH ONE SHE LOVES

Dear Miss Fairfax

I'm 21 years old and engaged to a man who is really almost old enough to be my father He is a business acquaintance of my father's Ten months ago I met a young man at a dance whom I like very much He is only 23 My fiance thinks I am in love with this younger man I don't know what to think as I've never gone out with him, but have danced with him many times

My fiance is very good to me, has his own business, and I'm sure would be a grand husband The younger man is still in the army, and has only a job in a department store to go back to He hopes to study again when he is discharged and get a degree

However, I want to be fair all around Don't you think I ought to be sure before I marry? How can I become better acquainted with the young man? Undecided

If a girl of 21 is not deeply in love with a man who is so much her senior, it would be a mistake to marry him and would be as unfair to him as to herself I believe you see this, my dear, as you have stated the case so clearly But how do you know the younger man cares about you? You've met him at dances and he has danced with you that's all

If you think he's holding off because you're engaged, why don't you invite him to your home with a small group of friends to dance, play cards or other games? This may help clear the situation.

LONDON (CP) — A bus conductor, H W Richardson, just demobbed from the services, said, when asked how he managed to be so polite "I am so happy to be back in Civvy Street I'd give a pound to the first person who could make me lose my temper."

Local Butchers

for police protection and failed to get it when unwilling to prefer charges of intimidation, appeared willing to buck the policy of the vigilantes.

SOME CLAIM THEY CLOSED UNDER PRESSURE

Some butchers claimed they closed under pressure, while Montreal police, trailing the vigilante gangs, claimed store owners were not co-operating and that police must have identification of alleged intimidators.

Spread of the strike to grocery stores came when some in Montreal's North End and in Verdun caught vigilantes' attention because "they were selling tinned meat."

Meanwhile at Ottawa, though there was no indication of any definite action planned, officials left no doubt of the Government's power to act should the strike developments make it advisable in the Government's view. Under the War Measures Act, still in force, the Government could take over closed stores and operate them under public control, using the famed R.C.M.P. to guard them if necessary.

Some retailers in other centres also kept their stores closed. This was the case in Edmonton, Lethbridge and Camrose in Alberta and in some smaller Nova Scotia towns.

index rather of uneasy political situation than of any inherent defects in the plan itself, says The Times editorially.

Of two major party organizations, the Moslem League has less reason to be embarrassed by the plan and will probably judge it on the extent to which it affords opportunities for assertion of Moslem claims.

The Congress Party, on the other hand, being above all things, anxious to avoid accusation that it stands only for Hindu interests has had to adopt the issue of Indian independence as the main plank in the electoral platform. The weakness of this issue is that it has already been decided and no one challenges it.

Of the new Anglo-American oil agreement, The Times says the proposed petroleum commission and international council will be only advisory and consultative bodies whose proposals won't be binding on the signatory governments or their nationals, but they should serve a valuable and necessary purpose of providing a clearing house for ideas and information on policies and disputed questions concerning concessions and development rights.

LEADING Wren Ruth Smith, of Shinimicas Bridge, Nova Scotia, smiles as she looks over part of the bales of clothing already donated by Wrens in Ottawa for the relief of women in poverty-stricken Europe. The collection will be turned over to U.N.R.R.A. next month when the official drive opens, but in the meantime, at the suggestion of Lt. Eleanor McCallum, of Toronto, quarters officer at Wallis House in Ottawa, excess items of uniform are being donated by Wrens who have received their discharge from the service. Warm shoes, stockings, overshoes, rubbers, out-grown coats and jackets and skirts are all part of this pile.

Akron Rubber Strike Ended

CHICAGO, Sept. 25 (AP)—One of the big United States labor disputes—the 22-day rubber strike in Akron—ended Tuesday and plants were readied to receive 15,000 production workers today.

Important labor developments elsewhere included:

1. Government, management and labor representatives gathered at a conciliation meeting in Chicago aimed at a prompt ending of the seven-state C.I.O. oil workers' strike.

2. The House of Representatives ways and means committee set aside all legislation proposing liberalization of unemployment compensation in view of the current wave of reconversion strikes.

3. Nearly 20,000 coal miners in Pennsylvania and West Virginia were away from the pits, supporting supervisors in their demand for recognition of their union.

4. Strike settlements, including the B. F. Goodrich Company dispute in Akron, were offset by new disputes and the unofficial tabulation placed the national total of persons idle in labor controversies at 343,528.

Shortly after the Goodrich Company and the C.I.O. United Rubber Workers announced reopening of six Akron plants, foremen voted unanimously to end their three-week strike and resume work.

The 800 foremen, members of the Foremen's Association of America, walked out Labor Day, alleging the company enforced "wholesale lay-offs during reconversion." The company denied this. As a result of the foremen's dispute 15,000 production employees were unable to work.

In Chicago, Justice William L. Knous, of the Colorado Supreme Court, head of a three-man conciliation panel said he was "hopeful of a quick settlement" of the C.I.O. oil workers' strike for a 30 per cent wage increase.

The strike involves 30,000 workers in seven states and has threatened some communities with a gasoline shortage.

Ontario Reeve Quotes Figures

CHATHAM, Ont., Sept. 25 (CP)—Reeve George Fry of Wallaceburg, Ont., tonight charged at a meeting of the Western Ontario Butchers Association executive here that the Prices Board cut pork quotas to independent butchers by 75 per cent and at the same time increased packing house quotas for domestic trade by 40 per cent.

He said the information was given to him by meat board officials in Ottawa last week when he attended the conference between Prices Board officials and meat dealers.

Prior to that he said the Government was taking 85 per cent of the packing house kill for overseas commitments.

"Now the Government takes only 25 per cent of the packing house pork kill for overseas," he said. "So the situation in Europe cannot be as desperate as they would have us believe."

Reeve Fry said the Prices Board spent $600,000 in publicizing the present rationing.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Sun Tse Ping, attache at the Chinese Embassy here is being recalled to China, Sheng Tien Pao, first secretary, said today. The baby was a great-grandson of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, founder of the Chinese republic.

Claims He Served In Convoys While A.W.L. From Army

BORDEN, Hampshire, England, Sept. 25 (CP)—Charged at a court-martial here today with being absent without leave for four years and 17 days, Pte. Romeo Lee, 28, of Amqui, Que., testified he had been serving in British convoys.

The findings of the court will be made known.

In another case Pte. Adrien Demers, 35, of Montreal, convicted by a field general court-martial of being absent without leave for four years and eight months, was sentenced to two years at hard labor and discharge with ignominy.

Lee, a member of the Royal 22nd Regiment of Quebec, admitted going absent without leave April 5, 1941, obtaining from the Free French authorities in London a civilian suit and identification papers and being given the alias Roband Tuebeuf.

Lee said he disclosed to the Free French he was in the Canadian Army and he was sent to sea with Free French Forces attached to the British Merchant Navy.

The soldier, who was arrested last April 22 by civil police in London's Stepney district, said he had done more for the nation than he would have done had he remained in the army. He said that had he wanted to desert he could have done so in West or South Africa when on convoy duty.

No Danger

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Munitions Minister Howe said tonight there was "absolutely no danger" of radio-active material escaping from the Chalk River, Ont., atomic bomb plant into the Ottawa River from which a number of Ontario cities, including Ottawa, get their water supply.

The minister made the statement in an interview following a lengthy discussion of the subject by Ottawa's board of control, where Controller G. W. Goodwin posed the question as to the effect of such material on cities should it escape into the river.

"There is absolutely no danger," the minister said. "This has been checked by some of the greatest experts in the world . . . every precaution was taken weeks ahead of time.

"You can say the Chalk River plant was certified for safety. I repeat again that there is absolutely no danger."

Round-the-World Trip in Less Than 82 Days a Record

LIVERPOOL, England, Sept. 25 (CP)—The Cunard liner Mauretania docked here Monday after a 28,662-mile round-the-world voyage in 81 days and 18 hours—said by Capt. R. B. G. Woollatt to be a new world record. He also said the liner established another record by making a 13,700-mile trip from Sydney, Australia, to Liverpool in a month and a day.

Labor Unrest in Dominion Involves Policy, Not Wage

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Canada's current labor unrest has shown little parallel with that of the United States where mounting strikes have left more than 350,000 workers idle, a survey of the Canadian strike picture indicated today.

... turbance is the 14-day-old strike of 10,000 workers at the Windsor, Ont., plant of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada. Other work stoppages across Canada, all of a small scale, involve a further 470 workers.

Across the river from Windsor 90,000 Detroit automobile workers have walked out. Between the strikes on the two sides of the border there is, however, a major difference. While the Canadian automobile workers are on strike in an effort to enforce demands for union security in their contract with the company, the American workers are seeking 30 per cent wage increases.

Apart from the labor disturbances, Canada is experiencing a strike of butchers in various parts of the country in protest at the Government's policy on meat rationing.

In general Canadian strike records show that during the last year or more Canadian disputes have centred upon union security rather than wages. The Ford case is typical of this with the strike marking the climax of a 17-month effort by the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) to have a union shop introduced.

A union shop agreement would mean that while the company might hire non-union members all employees would be required to join the union within a certain time of their employment.

The union shop plan is a modification of the closed shop under which only union members could be hired by the company. A further modification in effect in many Canadian plants is the maintenance-of-membership scheme which requires union members to continue their ... agreement but there is no compulsion on employees to join the union.

In organized labor circles many leaders are looking to the Ford dispute to set a precedent for policy on union security and because of this interest the matter will come before the Canadian Congress of Labor executive at a meeting tomorrow.

The Congress already has placed before the Government proposals for amendments to the Federal labor code which would more solidly establish the union shop principle. This is one of the matters on the agenda for discussion when Dominion-Provincial discussions are resumed sometime this Fall but it is expected the C.C.L. will increase pressure on the provinces in an effort to obtain earlier consideration of this matter.

Navy Prisoners Of War Released

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP). — All Royal Canadian Navy personnel known to have been taken prisoner during the war have been freed with the recovery of two naval officers held prisoners in Java, Naval Service Headquarters announced today.

The officers, now reported safe in British hands, are Lieut. (S.B.) George Tidy, of Toronto, and Sub-Lieut. Richard Hugh Leir, Penticton, B.C.

The two Canadians, serving in the British cruiser Exeter and taken prisoner when the ship was sunk in action with Japanese cruisers in the Java Sea, March 1, 1942, have been flown to Calcutta from their prison camp in Java.

They were the only Canadian naval personnel known to have been taken prisoner in the war in the Far East. Earlier this week it was announced that Lieut. Ian Ernest Alcock, D.S.C., of Victoria, missing on a commando raid in ... joined resistance forces and had eluded capture by the Japanese.

A total of 92 Canadian naval officers and ratings were captured during the war, 85 of them having been taken after the sinking of the Tribal class destroyer Athabaskan in the English Channel in 1944. There were no deaths among Canadian naval prisoners.

Canadian Citizen ---And Nothing Else

OTTAWA, Sept. 2 (CP).—T. J. Bentley (C.C.F., Swift Current) is a strong supporter of the move to establish Canadian nationality.

He told the Commons tonight he was a "Canadian citizen" and wanted to be called nothing else, so much so that he had "probably broken the law more than any other member."

When he joined the army, took out a registration card or registered one of his children he always was asked his nationality. He always replied "Canadian" and each time declined to give any other nationality, although pressed to do so.

"I hope this Parliament will put me within the pale of the law so that I won't have to break it or lie everytime I have to give my nationality," he said.

Alberta Herder Victim of Storm

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Sept. 25 (CP).—The body of W. "Bill" Cameron, 44, sheepherder of the Ole Kirkvold Sheep Ranch in South Alberta, was found today on the Lost River, north of Conrey.

Cameron is the second victim of a severe September snowstorm which swept this area Saturday.

The body of Archie Fisher, sheepherder on the Mayland Ranch in Southeastern Alberta, was found Monday near Govenlock, Sask.

The place of men in the life of the churches was stressed in a Men's Week held throughout Baptist Churches in Ontario and Quebec. In some churches, laymen had entire charge of the evening service.

Hears Housing Cases

In judgments handed down in County Court yesterday, Judge H. H. Shandley denied one landlord possession of a suite in an apartment and granted possession of a house to another.

Alexander W. Cameron, on his own behalf and as agent for Ethel Cameron, sought possession of a suite from ... Owen. In the judgment His Honor stated Owen had originally sublet it from J. E. Cornwall, but when the latter gave notice to vacate and removed his personal belongings, the landlord accepted Owen's cheque for the next month's rent. A month later he returned the cheque. Since the rent had always been paid by cheque, Judge Shandley held the relation between landlord and tenant was established, and when Cameron accepted Owen's cheque for $40 on June 30, he accepted it as rent and had no right to return it later. He refused the landlord's application for possession.

His Honor gave an order for possession of a house occupied by Mrs. L. Twyman, in favor of William A. Patton and Florence G. C. Patton, landlords. They had complied with regulations, he held.

NANAIMO, Sept. 24—James Galloway, butcher, who lives across the way from Camp Nanaimo is looking for marauders who clipped wire fencing to gain entrance to his poultry coop and decamped with fifteen of his largest turkeys which he has been fattening for Thanksgiving. He estimates the loss at $75, carried no insurance and considers the theft was committed by a person or persons familiar with his property.

Chest Fund at $12,168 Mark

The Community Chest fund, boosted by $5,853 yesterday, rose to $42,168. Although the figure is well past the halfway mark, last year at the same date the total was $1,000 higher. Officials stated that if the quota of $83,000 is not reached ... to be extended.

Mrs. Kenneth Barr, secretary, said that while returns were coming in slowly, officials expected to reach the objective by the end of the month. "Many concerns in the city pay by the month," she said, "and donations from persons in that classification should be forthcoming then." Mrs. Barr also said that poor weather conditions had slowed up the drive.

Mrs. A. H. Cox, vice-chairman of the Women's Division of the Community Chest, spoke over radio station CJVI yesterday in aid of the campaign, mentioning briefly the work of the 20 agencies supported by the Chest.

C.C.F. Gives Platform

The C.C.F. program for the British Columbia election campaign is ... lished by the party and now being distributed.

For demobilization, the platform proposes co-ordination of local committees to speed absorption of servicemen, a survey of employment possibilities, extended vocational training, and initiation of public works projects.

In the Dominion-Provincial field the C.C.F. would propose Dominion jurisdiction in wage, social security and health fields, but with administration and concurrent jurisdiction vested in the provinces so that provinces need not be held down to minimum national standards, drafting of a Canadian constitution by Canadians, elimination of appeals to the Privy Council, consolidation and refunding of provincial and municipal debts with Federal assistance, and participation by the provinces in plans for development of heavy industry.

Mystery Thriller Comes to Atlas

A doctor's love for a girl whose husband he believes is a killer is the dramatic situation upon which R.K.O. Radio's mystery thriller, "Experiment Perilous," is based.

Starring Hedy Lamarr, George Brent and Paul Lukas, the film, which opens today at the Atlas Theatre, is an adaptation of Margaret Carpenter's novel which was a Literary Guild selection.

Brent has the role of the doctor who, interested in the wife of a wealthy philanthropist, learns of certain significant and sinister happenings in her life. Miss Lamarr, as the wife, is kept a virtual prisoner by her prominent husband, Paul Lukas.

The ensuing showdown forms a smashing climax to the gripping story.

Cubs Jolt Cardinals By Rallying to Take First Game of Series

Shove Over Four Runs in Seventh to Register Thrilling 6-5 Triumph—Weather Aids Tigers

By The Canadian Press

Those $5,000 "jitters" jolted the Cardinals just a little bit more than the Cubs yesterday—and the jolt jerked Chicago's Grizzlies virtually out of reach in front of the National League's pennant stretch struggle.

The Cubs came to life with a four-run spree in the seventh inning of this first game of the senior circuit's own "little world series" to pile up a 6-5 win and jump two and a half games out in front of St. Louis in the flag chase.

Taking this thrill-a-play heart-breaker, the Cubs zipped to a spot where they have to take only four of their remaining six games to lock up the championship, even if the Cards win all of the five they still have to play.

Riding to victory on the shaky—but rugged—right arm of Hank Borowy, who thus posted his tenth win against two setbacks since being bought from the Yanks in mid-season, the Cubs, too, had all the heat taken off them for tomorrow's second and final fuss. The Cards are carrying all the load now—especially since their ace, Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, was trumped so soundly and solidly today.

Borowy wasn't around at the finish. Coming back with a two-run rally in the eighth, the Cards clouted Hank out of the box for the first time in 13 starts since he joined the Cubs.

At New York, Goody Rosen's 12th homer of the season, coming with two out and two on in the ninth inning climaxed a Brooklyn Dodgers' spurt for a 7-4 National League decision over New York Giants.

Vic Lombardi went all the way for his tenth victory and his third straight over New York as the Dodgers made it 14 out of 31 over the Giants for the season.

In the American League, Detroit's tussle with Cleveland was rained out and joy reigned in the Bengal quarters. If today's double-header is washed out, too, the Tigers automatically become the American League champions, finishing ahead of idle Washington Senators on percentage points.

At St. Louis, the Browns put together a walk and four hits to produce four runs in the fourth inning and down Chicago White Sox 5-1.

Junior Soccer Opening Set For October 8

Plans were laid for the coming season at an executive meeting of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association recently. Closing date for entries in the various divisions was set for Wednesday, October 3, with the season's opener scheduled for Monday, October 8.

Prospects for the coming season are exceptionally bright, with two new divisions added to the four operated by the association last season. Eleven entries have been received to date and officials expect several more additions before the closing date.

An effort will be made to obtain entries from other points on the lower part of the Island. The association covers all points south of Duncan and it is hoped that out-of-town teams may be able to enter clubs in one or more divisions.

Plans for a football school have already been laid by the executive. The school will be open to all youngsters wishing to play football and expert tutelage will be provided. Present arrangements call for a mass meeting of all interested parties, including boys desirous of entering the school on Friday September 28. Further information will be released at a later date.

Ryder Cup Decision Disappoints Golfers

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 25 (AP)—A British Professional Golf Association decision not to hold the Ryder Cup matches next year disappointed top-flight American golfers here today for the Portland open.

Fred Corcoran, American P G A tournament manager, expressed regret the international tourney could not be resumed. Commenting on the British statement that time was needed to offset effects of war, he declared, "this country has been at war, too. Five of the present United States Ryder Cup team have been in the armed forces."

American players, however, will accept Britain's invitation for a visit, he said. "A number of our top players — including Byron Nelson — are planning to go to England for the British open next year if it is held."

Louisville Evens Play-Off Series

Hamilton Loses Protest Decision

HAMILTON, Sept. 25 (CP).—An Ontario Rugby Football Union committee meeting attended by officials of Hamilton Wildcats and Toronto Oakwood Indians tonight disallowed a protest by Wildcats against a referee's decision Saturday when Wildcats bowed to Indians, 8-4.

Wildcats claimed an attempted placement in the fourth quarter by George (Scotty) Wright, which would have tied the score, 8-8, should have been ruled completed. Referee Harry McBrien allowed a single point when the kick went to the deadline.

In disallowing the protest, officials ruled the protest concerned a referee's judgment.

Billy Conn Receives Discharge From Army

CAMP LEE, La., Sept. 25 (AP).—Billy Conn, the pride of Pittsburgh and former light-heavyweight champion of the world, was discharged from the United States Army today and left for his home for a brief rest.

He plans to resume again in civilian rings his campaign for a shot at Champion Joe Louis and the world's heavyweight title. Conn spent more than three years in the service during which he entertained soldiers in bases here and overseas.

Registrations at Cage School Heavy

REGISTRATIONS for the [illegible] to come in at a heavy rate as budding cage stars and their parents express a keen interest in the plan fostered by two local sportsmen. Over 50 youngsters have registered and many more are expected.

Organized jointly by Reg Patterson, coach of the Victoria Roofing quintette, who won the provincial senior "B" cage title last year, and Ted Taylor, vice-president of the Victoria Baseball Association, the school has a twofold purpose — to give all Victoria youngsters an opportunity to play basketball and a long-range plan to promote the welfare of the hoop game.

Tuition will be free to any boy between nine and 18 years of age. Further registrations will be taken on Saturday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4 at the Eagles Home, View Street.

Groups Seek Racing Rights At Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Sept 25 (CP).—President Mackenzie Bowell, of the Vancouver Exhibition Association, said tonight that "the group headed by George Irvine has already interviewed me," in connection with the purchase of Hastings Park Race Track.

"All we are concerned about is the best offer from the groups asking for the racing rights," Mr. Bowell continued. "We are a public body and in the interest of the association we must accept the highest bid."

Earlier today The Vancouver Province said in a newspage item that a $1,000,000 corporation has been formed for the purpose of purchasing the two Lulu Island race tracks, Brighouse and Lansdowne, and forecast a "fight to the finish" for racing rights at Hastings Park.

The corporation, formed by G. L. (Pat) Fraser, Vancouver lawyer, representing B.C. Turf Co., Ltd., wants to acquire both Vancouver tracks, The Province said, adding that the proposed deal may collapse if any difficulty develops in final purchase of Lansdowne.

A new group, headed by George Irvine, former president of the Horsemen's Association, would open negotiations with the Vancouver Exhibition Association, The Province said.

BOWLER ON WAY OUT

LONDON (CP) Demobilized servicemen are no longer "reaching for their bowler hats," for the bowler is going out of fashion and the Anthony Eden black felt is unchallenged as headwear for the city worker. The bowler retains its popularity only in Manchester and Birmingham.

Nearing American League Championship

DETROIT Tigers, who will clinch the American League baseball title today if their scheduled double-header with the Cleveland Indians should be washed out regardless of the result of their remaining two games with the St. Louis Browns. Washington Senators, their schedule completed, are only one game out of first place but have lost three more games than the Detroit club and the Tigers will have to lose three of their remaining four games to force a play-off. Top row, left to right, Ray Forsyth, trainer, George Caster, Les Mueller, James Miller, Zeb Eaton, Art Houtteman, Dizzy Trout, third row, left to right, Jim Tobin, Chuck Hostetler, Russ Kerns, Walter Wilson, Jim Webb, Bob Maier and Ed Borom second row, left to right, Bob Swift, Roger Cramer, Hank Greenberg, Jimmy Outlaw, Bob Hoover, front row, left to right, Eddie Mayo, Al Benton, Arthur Mills, coach; Steve O'Neill, manager, Paul Richards, Harold Newhouser and Frank Overmire.

Weatherman May Hand Pennant to Detroit

DETROIT, Sept. 25 (AP)—Most of Detroit Tigers sat around their hotel home today and watched the descent of a soothing, gentle rain with all the appreciation of a Saskatchewan farmer after a long drought.

To Manager Steve O'Neill's nervous athletes each drop looked like another digit in a world series cheque. One after another they looked at the glistening streets and scanned the lowering clouds and said hopefully: "Looks as if it might last for days"

There was never a chance of playing today's opener with Cleveland. Before noon the home club, the judge and jury in such cases, announced there would be a double-header tomorrow, starting at 12 30 p.m., C.D.T.

If those games should be washed out, too, the Tigers would automatically become American League champions, assured of finishing ahead of the idle Washington Senators on percentage points even if they should drop their final two games in St. Louis Saturday and Sunday.

The best the weather bureau could say was that tomorrow's weather should be better—how much better it wouldn't guess. The airport said it would clear in the afternoon. Even if the sun should appear early in the day, Briggs Stadium still will be a wet ball yard at game time.

Solons Tops in Coast Batting

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25 (AP)—Sacramento clouted its way to team batting honors in the Pacific Coast League baseball season just closed, while the Solons' outfielder Joyner (Jo Jo) White wielded the hottest bat in the loop.

The Sacramento club average was 288. White's, in 686 times at bat, 355. He is the first Sacramento player to lead the league in batting at the end of a full season since the league was formed in 1903.

White and Sacramento's second baseman Jess Landrum led in two-baggers, with 46 apiece while Hollywood's first baseman Cyril (Butch) Moran was right behind with 45.

In three-base hits shortstop Jack O'Neil, of Portland, was on top with 13. Home run king was Seattle outfielder Ted Norbert, with 23. Sacramento shortstop Gene Handley stole the most bases, 55. San Diego outfielder Lou Vezilich led in runs batted in, with 110, Norbert next with 109.

Other teams' batting averages were Seattle, 282, Los Angeles, 281, Portland, 280, Oakland, 279, San Francisco, 278, San Diego, 270, Hollywood, 268.

President Victor F Collins, in announcing the one-year contract, declined to reveal the salary involved, but said it would be an increase over this year's figure. Fausett hit 217 for the season just ended.

Victoria Mustangs Meet Vancouver College Here In Grid Opener Saturday

Preparing for their sternest test—their home opener against the power-laden Vancouver College at Royal Athletic Park on Saturday—Victoria Mustangs went through a stiff scrimmage at Macdonald Park last night under the watchful eyes of Coaches Bill Bishop and Jimmy Smith.

Embarking on a strenuous 11-game schedule, eight of them at home, the Mustangs, picked from the Greater Victoria high schools, face a stern test as they endeavor to bring the grid sport back to its pre-war prominence in local sporting circles. Playing together for the first time, the locals acquitted themselves well in the opening game at Port Angeles last Friday, dropping a 6-0 decision to the Roosevelt High School under the lights when their offence failed to function smoothly.

In an effort to smooth out their attacking plays, the Victoria club will scrimmage again tonight and tomorrow night and wind up their preparations for the Saturday game with a chalk talk on Friday night.

Saturday's game will contain all of the color associated with the American code. Arrangements are being made to have a band in attendance and it is hoped that the Victoria Girls Drill Team will be available for a halftime display. Organized cheering sections with girl cheer leaders from Victoria high schools will lend vocal support to the efforts of the local club. A running commentary will be given over a public address system and the game will be broadcast over Station CJVI. A Seattle referee will handle the game.

Vancouver College, always a force to be reckoned with under the guidance of Coach Greg Kabat, is reported to have one of its strongest clubs in years. Bob Murphy, one of the best plunging backs ever developed in the Mainland centre, is back along with many of last year's squad. Freddy French, who quarterbacked the Victoria team last year and a former star of the St. Louis College eleven, has won his place on the Vancouver team and will be seen in action against his former teammates.

Following last night's workout, Coaches Bishop and Smith announced that the following players would see action on Saturday:

Steve Rynoski (captain), Toad Garnet and George Harper, quarterbacks, Al Denoni, Len French, Tom Joyce, Ray Mitchell and "Pooay" Ross, halfbacks, Len Scott, Bill Thorburn, Harry Woods and Ray Reeves, fallbacks, Ted O'Brien, Bill O'Connell, John Pegg, Chuck Cole, Ken King and Bill Davis, ends, Gordie Brown, Ken Quest, Tom Konkin and Len Kisslinger, tackles, Harry Turner, Vince Clarkson, Pete Barry, Ray Lott, Al Hickman and Bill Baines, guards, and Howie Slaog and Fred Moonen, centres.

Game time will be 3 30 o'clock.

Tyees Hitting At Port Alberni

Fishing at Port Alberni continued to be exceptionally good according to reports received from the Port Alberni Tyee Club with every party out bringing in one or more large tyees. Fishing at Sproat River and Sproat Lake is improving daily with the peak yet to be reached.

S. J. Cohen and party, Vancouver, B.C., landed 15 fish weighing over 325 pounds in two days, the largest a 52½ pounder. J. C. Stoner, Kitchener, Ont., fishing for tyees for the first time, took three weighing 53, 36 and 27 pounds his first time out while Vic Bond and his 11-year-old son successfully landed a 55½ and a 36½ pounder on Sunday morning. Jay Harris, Palisades, Calif., landed the biggest tyee of the past week, 59 pounds.

Others who weighed in tyees at headquarters include C. Abbill, 41, 36 and 34½ pounds, J. Forsythe, 42 and 28 pounds, R. Le Duc, 45½, 43½, 35¼ and 31 pounds, N Zallo, 35 and 31 pounds, R Emery, 44½ pounds, L. Houle, 43½ pounds, S Kilvington, 37½ pounds, E M Davis, 37 pounds, and M McKenzie, 36½ and 32 pounds.

Destroying Horses To Save Rangeland

CRANBROOK, Sept. 25 (CP)—Proclamation of closure of all East Kootenay rangeland to horses and stallions during October as a range conservation measure was announced following a meeting of the East Kootenay Beef Growers' Association.

The British Columbia Forestry Branch has authorized the association to hire a man for one year to shoot all stallions on the range. Roundups of horses and stallions at large will be organized in the various parts of the district and local organisations have been advised to arrange a selling program for unclaimed horses, which will otherwise be shot.

According to the preliminary disposition data available the Canadian wheat crop of 1943 was overestimated by about eight to nine million bushels.

Air Crews on Reserve Now Get Release

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — Eleven thousand members of the R.C.A.F., transferred from active service to the air force's trained air crew reserve when the defeat of Germany lessened air crew requirements, are now finally released from the service, Air Minister Gibson announced tonight.

Even though their full documentation was completed when they were transferred to the trained air crew reserve, they were not at that time finally released. Mr. Gibson said, however, that now with announcement of their release from service no action by the individual

The successful conclusion of the war had made it unnecessary for the air force to keep these men available, Mr. Gibson said in a statement. But their status was exactly equivalent to that of a member of the R.C.A.F. who had gone through the normal channels and been finally discharged.

All former personnel of the trained aircrew reserve, as well as all other members of the reserve, will shortly be given the opportunity of "re-engaging if they so desire for continuing service during the transition period until September 30, 1947," the statement said.

"The purpose of such continued service is to meet the requirements of the R.C.A.F. during the period following the end of hostilities and the ultimate organization of the postwar (regular) air force. Those who have so served will be given special consideration for enlistment or appointment to such permanent force."

The minister's statement reminded trained aircrew reserve men, now they are released, they are required as from today to apply within three months for their former civilian jobs if they so desire and if they are to have the protection of the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act. Also, they now are automatically eligible for all other benefits which accrue to released R.C.A.F. personnel.

Railways Change Time at Week-End

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 (AP) — All railway trains in Canada will stop Sunday in the time zone in which they are operating, to make the switch back to standard time with the least confusion, it was learned today.

The system in getting the railways back to standard time from the daylight saving time prevailing throughout the war, is the same as will be used in the United States at the same time, and the same as was used in reverting to standard time after the First Great War, railway officials said.

Under the system to be followed, each train in operation at 2 a.m. Sunday will continue to the nearest train-order office—or station—and remain there for one hour, moving on again on its regular schedule after "the time has caught up to it again."

Mail Four Years Old From Orient

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25—A file of three letters—two of them written by men who later died while in Japanese hands—reached Vancouver today—four years after being mailed at Hongkong post office.

The envelope with its Hongkong cancellation stamp dated December 6, 1941, was addressed to K. M. Fetterly, foreign freight agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Vancouver. The envelope also bore a stamp stating "Detained in Hongkong Japanese from December, 1941 to September, 1945." It was discovered by British occupation forces when they retook the city, and then forwarded to Vancouver.

The letters deal with C.P.R. business. One of them was written by L. E. N. Ryan, agent at Hongkong, who died in Stanley internment camp from beriberi, in February, 1945. Another was written by J. Oram Sheppard, freight agent, who died from wounds received during the battle for Repulse Bay.

The third letter on the file is from David Drummond, C.P.R. Oriental manager at Hongkong. Drummond, rescued from a Jap internment camp, is now en route to the United Kingdom.

Former Liner Prize of War

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP) — The 49,746-ton liner Europa, former pride of the German Merchant Marine, was formally in United States possession today as a "prize of war."

Once a record holder for the Atlantic crossing, the Europa arrived in New York Harbor last night manned by a navy prize crew, bringing home 4,387 veterans from Europe. In the presence of her former German captain, Oskar Scharf, the vessel was seized formally by the United States.

The navy captured the vessel, third largest afloat, at Bremerhaven, Germany, last June.

Other ships of the Coast Service will follow the Princess Alice in changing over to peacetime paint when they can be spared for the three-weeks overhaul that is necessary for refitting purposes. The wartime guns and bridge armor have already been removed from the vessels.

Government Rule Designed to Protect Waitresses at Night

Unless they are employed continuously from midnight until 6 a.m., women and girls after October 15 may not work the "graveyard" shift in restaurants and hotel dining-rooms. Waitresses cannot be kept at work until after midnight or called out before 6 a.m., according to a new ruling of the Board of Industrial [illegible] by Adam Bell, chairman.

At the same time he announced the nine-hour day and 54-hour week permitted in the lumbering industry east of the Cascade Mountains since 1925 had been canceled, and that employees in that area would be placed on the same basis, eight hours daily and 48 hours weekly, as on the Coast.

The new regulation governing restaurant and hotel dining-room employees is designed to protect them from molestation when going home in the early hours of the morning. It is a reflection of a recent Vancouver case where a waitress was murdered at English Bay in the early morning hours.

Women may be employed on the midnight to 6 a.m. shift only if their employment is continuous between those times.

"This is intended," Mr. Bell stated, "to stop the practice of broken shifts which make it necessary for female employees to travel to and from work in the deep hours of night when transportation facilities are not available and the hazards attendant on such circumstances are frequently encountered. This regulation will come into force on October 15."

The new regulation governing hours of work of lumbering employees east of the Cascades is effective at the end of October. It will place the industry throughout the [illegible] 48-hour week.

"These limits," Mr. Bell said, "do not apply to persons holding positions of supervision and management, and limited hours in excess of the maximum are allowed by regulations in the case of certain key positions such as engineers and millwrights. Provision is also made for extra hours in event of mechanical breakdowns."

Issue Permits For 150 Homes

One week after the first application for permits for the construction of veterans' houses was made by Victoria Housing, Ltd., the city building department yesterday granted authorization for construction of the full total of 150 dwellings.

The permits are for a total value of $540,000, and include four-room houses at $3,500, and six-room houses at $4,000.

Fourteen houses in the Oaklands-Fernwood district were started originally, and construction is now well under way. Additional houses will be started shortly, and completion of the contract with Wartime Housing Ltd. will be carried out progressively.

Other permits issued yesterday by L. J. Eckman, acting building inspector, included construction of a six-room dwelling costing $4,850, by J. B. Dalman at 3149 Shelbourne Street, and a house with six rooms at 147 Olive Street to cost $5,000.

Wipe Out Conviction

John Shapta, Cranbrook, fined in 1943 on a charge of failing to register a firearm, has received a Governor-General's pardon, in effect wiping out the conviction recorded against him.

Hon. R. L. Maitland, Attorney-General, announced yesterday that the pardon had been granted.

"It appears we have made a serious error and I feel very sorry such a thing occurred," he said when he applied to the Department of Justice at Ottawa for the pardon. He wrote some time ago, and when action was not forthcoming he made personal representations in Ottawa last month.

When Shapka was charged with failure to register a firearm, he said he thought it was registered but could not find the certificate. He was fined $5 plus $4.50 costs, and the gun was confiscated. Later a further search of records was made, and Shapka's certificate, dated April, 1941, was found.

Merchant Is Fined $300

Reginald Lowe, Chinese storekeeper, was fined $300 and costs of $2.50 in city police court yesterday morning on a charge of displaying or offering for sale articles without prices on them, and selling articles above the maximum price.

W. T. Straith, K.C., defence counsel, entered a plea of guilty. Lowe was left alone to run his store with the help of his aged mother, he said, while two brothers were in the armed forces. The defendant was also in poor health, Mr. Straith claimed.

The fine must be substantial, Magistrate H. C. Hall commented. Although the circumstances were difficult, they applied to almost every merchant in the city, he added.

Harry C. Green, a taxicab driver, was convicted on a charge of dangerous driving and fined $30. The charge arose out of an accident at Langley and Broughton Streets, when a car driven by T. A. Greensmith was overturned after a collision with Green's machine.

Bail of $500 was set for Louis G. George after he was granted another one-day remand on a charge of supplying liquor to a minor.

Percival Good was remanded until today on charges of dangerous driving, driving without a licence and supplying liquor to a minor.

An Indian who pleaded guilty on a charge of intoxication was fined $10. A motorist was fined $15 after pleading guilty to a speeding charge.

Eight motorists each paid fines of $2.50 for infractions of parking regulations and fines of $5 were imposed on three others who admitted having no drivers' licences.

Distribute Civil Defence Awards

Civil Defence certificates for personnel who served in separate units, such as stores, shipyards, and other establishments, are now being sent to the heads of the firms or units for distribution to the workers, Inspector A. H. Bishop, Civil Defence controller, said yesterday.

Plans for distribution of the certificates to the main group of Civil Defence workers, connected with the local districts and affiliated groups such as the Canadian Red Cross and St. John Ambulance Association, have not yet been completed.

It is expected that Mayor Percy E. George will present the awards to district leaders, who will in turn arrange ceremonies for presentations to individuals.

All persons connected with Civil Defence, a total of 3,600 in Victoria, will receive certificates. Inspector Bishop said. Handsomely illustrated, and bearing the Canadian coat of arms and Department of Veterans' Affairs seal, each certificate reads as follows:

"This is to certify that .... enrolled as a volunteer worker for Civil Defence in the war against the German Reich and other Axis powers and, as such, served faithfully so long as the need continued. The Government on behalf of the people of Canada, hereby express appreciation of such services."

Each certificate is signed by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Hon. John Hart, chairman of the Provincial Civilian Protection Committee, Hon. Ian A. Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans Affairs, and Brig.-Gen. Alex Ross, director of Civil Defence for Canada.

Acquire Terrace Electric Plant

The British Columbia Power Commission has formally taken over the small Terrace power system owned by Gordon Kerr, and is operating a temporary plant to supply electricity to consumers in that area, S. R. Weston, chairman of the commission, stated yesterday. Mr. Kerr's generating plant was destroyed by fire last month, and the commission acquired an R.C.A.F. unit to supply power in its place. About 60 customers are affected.

Mr. Weston also revealed the commission was negotiating with War Assets Corporation for a lease on a power plant at Dawson Creek, built by the United States Army.

Northland Utilities, recently incorporated to acquire the Peace River holdings of Dominion Electric Power, Ltd., when the Saskatchewan Government took over the latter company, will distribute the power, under arrangements now being worked out, Mr. Weston said.

He stated the Northland Utilities plant was not large enough to supply all the power needed in the Dawson Creek area, and the United States Army plant would be used to supplement its supply.

Youth Draws Year For Motor Theft

John Pollard was convicted in city police court yesterday morning on a charge of stealing an automobile and was sentenced to serve one year in prison at hard labor.

On Monday, Harvey Reader told the court of his actions with Pollard, and of stealing the car, the property of John I. Petrie, early on the morning of September 18.

Pollard went on the witness stand yesterday to testify on his own behalf. He claimed young Reader had gone to hire a car while he waited, and had returned to pick him up about 12.40 a.m. On the night of September 18, they had picked up his girl friend and gone for a ride, Pollard testified.

Under cross-examination, Pollard said that Reader had changed licence plates with another car.

The changing of the plates clinched the evidence against Pollard, Magistrate H. C. Hall commented in finding the youth guilty.

Interior Road Plans

Tenders for two road projects in West Kootenay and another in the Cariboo are being called by the Department of Public Works. They must be in the hands of Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister, by noon on October 10.

The Cariboo work will be reconstruction of 11 miles on Cariboo Highway No. 2.

In West Kootenay the jobs to be undertaken consist of 1.25 miles of construction on the Hell Creek diversion, part of the Nelson-Spokane route, and two miles of reconstruction of the Southern Transprovincial Highway between Creston and Arrow Creek.

Speaker Deals With Problems Confronting People of India

If India entered and remained a partner in the British Commonwealth, it would prove that East and West could work together, Sir Frederick Puckle claimed in an address before a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Adviser on Indian affairs to the [illegible] D.C., Sir Frederick believed that self-government for India would be a climax of British rule in that country, and also a crisis for its people.

Recalling highlights in the history of India, the speaker noted that since Britain had taken over the reins of government in India in 1800, it had been her job to "nurse the country back to health and find her a place in the modern world." He recalled the disunity and warlike sections of India prior to British rule.

"No matter what our motive," Sir Frederick continued, "look at India now." He explained that in many instances India was far ahead of China and other comparatively backward countries. Mention was made of India's balanced economy, enlightened middle class, industry, public services and democratic institutions.

He admitted there were many persons who accused Great Britain of hindering India.

Asking the question "Will India continue to be a member of the British Empire?" the speaker claimed it was difficult to answer. "Sentiment and emotion are strong factors which might well mean a break between India and the Empire," he asserted. He thought it possible that forces of young nationalism might cause the break.

There were many material reasons why India should remain with the Commonwealth, the speaker added. He noted that once on her own, India would have to defend herself, with possibly no assistance, if needed, from the British Empire.

In his estimation, one of the world's greatest problems was the possibility of further antagonism between white and colored races. "If India remains in the Empire it will prove that Kipling was incorrect when he said, 'Never the twain shall meet,'" Sir Frederick concluded.

Introduced by Major H. C. Holmes, president of the Chamber of Commerce, the speaker was thanked by Forrest L. Shaw.

THE LAST DAY at the track was the same old story. U could say the grocer if U played Emil Sporri. This is the jockey who brings in the loot known as the veteran as honest harlow. I looked at the track, the sloppy red, then puzzled in the paddock at a horse NALOD. He seemed very fasten amongst those in that hop as if he wouldn't slip in the muck and the slop. My thinkin was sound, the $8.10 hooks dare value way out in front. Was my pal Mr Sporri. For leading on points he won his annual 100 a driver one must N worth a few rocks. Which caused me 2 wonder in my simple way if he keeps em all or sells em a hee. If he opens a fur store he could sure make it pay, it has anything on their place of lay away.

AS YE SOW
A REALLY TRUE OLD SAYING: "AS ye sow, so shall ye reap." In any business it applies fully, and we who recognize it have nothing to fear of the future. If a storekeeper can give to the customer real honest value for his money, that is all the customer is going to ask or expect. Since we opened this store we have always tried to maintain a rigid sense of true value, to sell used articles at "used" prices and though we probably have made some mistakes we believe our mistakes have been more to underestimating than otherwise. We have paid no attention at all, in pricing our goods, to the fact that a certain article was scarce or "hard to get"—we sold at low true value on a first-come, first-served basis, and as we see our volume of sales gradually [illegible] gratifying and profitable to be able to reflect—"As ye sow."

Victoria Veterans Returning Home

A legless veteran of the First Great War, E. A. Rowe, Victoria, was on hand to greet his son, Sgt. Gene Rowe, one of more than 300 Canadian servicemen who arrived in Vancouver from overseas. Sgt. Rowe saw action in France, Holland and Germany during his five years

The contingent of returning veterans arrived in Canada last week aboard the troopship Pasteur.

Pte A Bysouth, British Columbia Dragoons, 858 Caledonia Avenue, commenting on the dismissal of Maj J D Macfarlane by Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, Canadian divisional commander overseas, as editor of the Northwest Europe edition of The Maple Leaf, Canadian Army newspaper, said "the general made a wrong move."

"He (Macfarlane) was a good man. All the fellows like him," said Bysouth, adding that Maj Macfarlane's policy of criticizing the army's repatriation system met with the approval "of nearly all the boys overseas."

Bysouth said most of the soldiers overseas were indignant that some men with a low number of points were being sent home ahead of those "who fought all the way from Italy to Germany."

Thousands of Poles to Return

BERLIN, Sept 25 (CP)—Movement of thousands of Polish displaced persons from British and American zones of occupied Germany back toward Poland is expected to start within a few days, it was learned here.

It will be the first large-scale movement of Poles, virtually the last big group of displaced persons left in the British-American areas. Polish women and children from a dozen camps will travel in truck convoys through the Russian zone to their homeland.

Roads for the trip now are being reconnoitred. Later, when minefields in the Baltic have been swept, some will return by sea from Hamburg and Bremen, likely going to Stettin.

Poles have been a big question mark among displaced persons in Germany. Some high officials feared few would want to return to Poland but when a survey was made thousands of volunteers were found. The total for returning Polish personnel may be as high as 500,000.

There is an additional residue of between 100,000 and 200,000 who will not return at present but their final decision apparently rests on reports their fellow countrymen send back about conditions inside Poland.

Nine Men Fined

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 25 (CP)—Nine men, charged with unlawfully breaking up explosives were fined $25 each today, with an alternative of one month in jail. Removed from the freighter Beaverhill, aground in Saint John harbor for a year, the explosives were broken up and the brass parts sold as junk. Some of the dismantling operations were carried out at St. Martins, where explosions occurred.

U.B.C. Overtaxed: 4,500 Students

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP)—More than 4,500 students, the largest registration in the history of the University of British Columbia, crammed lecture rooms and overflowed into halls Monday, the first day of lectures of the 1945-1946 session.

Officials are attempting to accommodate these students with facilities designed for one-third of their number.

Many students missed early lectures because of a transportation tie-up in the early morning.

In army huts, converted into classrooms, students sat on kitchen chairs or stood to listen to their instructors deliver opening lectures.

Feeding problems for the students of the university would be solved if the C.O.T.C. Armories were converted into a cafeteria, Frank Underhill, manager, said tonight.

Lt.-Col. Gordon M. Shrum, head of the University C.O.T.C. contingent, however, said he considered the idea impractical, stating that the C.O.T.C. had already donated two rooms in the building for lecture rooms and a parade ground, which they had cleared at considerable expense, for parking space.

University authorities are considering the placing of chairs and tables in the Armories so that students may study there.

The C.O.T.C. head also pointed out that there were no kitchen facilities in the Armories and it would be a costly procedure to install them.

Belgian Officials Arrive at Lisbon

LISBON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Premier Achille Van Acker and several members of his Belgian Cabinet were reported to have arrived here by plane today.

A report said they went immediately to see Prince Charles, the Belgian Regent, who arrived here last week for an undisclosed purpose.

At the Lisbon airport officials said "a special plane" was expected here tomorrow from Switzerland "bringing a notable passenger who may possibly be another outstanding Belgian."

King Leopold III of Belgium has been living in exile in Switzerland since he was liberated from the Germans.

In Brussels some quarters expressed the opinion that important developments in Belgium's monarchical problem were imminent.

Huge Meteor

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24 (AP)—A huge meteor, which looked like a red star with a blue tail, swept across Southeastern Australia, lighting up the countryside as bright as daylight shortly after midnight, Melbourne radio said in a broadcast recorded by N.B.C. Monday.

Australian observers reported that the meteor made a thunderous roar as it sailed by from north to south.

Pravda's 10,000th Issue Celebrated

MOSCOW, Sept. 25 (Reuters)—The Moscow newspaper Pravda, official organ of the Soviet Communist Party, Monday celebrated its 10,000th issue by printing six pages, the largest printed by any Soviet newspaper since the outbreak of war. Pravda (Truth) was founded underground in May, 1912.

"Security Charter"

HALIFAX, Sept. 25 (CP)—Establishment of new industries to develop resources and create new jobs in Nova Scotia, a revised labor code with compulsory bargaining, check-off and union shop privileges, unionization of the fisheries industry and establishment of a new portfolio of education and co-operatives in the Provincial Cabinet highlighted the ten-point "security charter" issued today by the C.C.F. in opening its campaign for the October 23 Nova Scotia general election.

CARTOONIST TO DIE

BRUSSELS, Sept. 25 (AP)—Paul Jamin, Belgian cartoonist whose caricatures of Winston Churchill were published in the German occupation press, has been sentenced to death by a Belgian court-martial for his pro-German activities. Jamin, known as "Jam," fled to Germany when the Germans were driven out of Belgium.

BIRTHS INCREASE

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP)—Births registered in Canadian centres with a population of 10,000 or more totaled 12,544 in July, compared with 12,051 in July, 1944, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. Deaths totaled 4,792 against 4,484 and marriages were 6,578 against 6,777.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—President Truman said Monday the world must organize for peace on the basis of the brotherhood of man or "walk straight to destruction." He was speaking at the unveiling of a bronze plaque in memory of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt, he declared, "risked his reputation on one war weapon—the breaking of the atom."

100 Automobiles Going to Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP)—Ford strikers from Windsor, Ont., plan to drive a motorcade of about 100 automobiles to Toronto for the mass rally of unions at Maple Gardens October 3, it was announced here tonight by Percy Newman, publicity director for the A.F.L.-C.I.O. committee arranging the rally.

The motorcade from Windsor, ... Motor Company of Canada plant are idle in a strike called two weeks ago by Local 200 of the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.), is expected to arrive in Toronto shortly before the Gardens meeting.

Attempt to Burn Japanese Lodging

WATSONVILLE, Calif., Sept. 25 (AP)—This community had its first recorded case of hostility against returning Japanese before dawn Monday when unidentified persons hurled a blazing flare toward the Buddhist temple, which is being used as a Japanese hotel.

The flare set fire to shrubbery but there was no other damage, Chief of Police Matt Graves said.

The hotel guests included three Nisei servicemen on furlough and many families who have sons in the armed forces.

District Attorney John L. McCarthy and Graves issued statements declaring that acts of violence or mob riots would not be tolerated and would be "prosecuted to the full extent of the law."

Wavell Criticized

POONA, India, Sept. 25 (Reuters)—Three prominent Indian Liberals in a statement on last week's broadcast by the Viceroy, Viscount Wavell, on Indian self-government called it "cold, curt, uninspiring and in unmistakable contrast with the warmth and friendliness of his broadcast which preceded the summoning of the Simla Conference."

The statement was by Mukund Ramrao Jayaker, former judge of the Federal Court; Jagdish Prasad, former member of the Viceroy's executive council, and Sir N. Gopalaswami Ayyangar, of Madras.

It concerned last Wednesday's broadcast by Lord Wavell, following his return from consultations with the British Government, in which he said he had been authorized to confer with representatives of provincial assemblies to find out whether the 1942 self-government offer taken to India by Sir Stafford Cripps was acceptable now or whether some alternative or modified scheme was preferred.

ACTRESS WRITER DIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—Leyla Georgie, actress, playwright and author, died Sunday after a brief illness. She would have been 40 years old tomorrow. Miss Georgie created the role of Charmaine in the play "What Price Glory," and wrote the play "Twenty-Five Dollars an Hour." Books included "Establishment of Mme Antonia."

World Trade Union Congress Opens in Paris

PARIS, Sept. 25 (CP)—Organized international labor intends to have a voice in guaranteeing world peace, Leon Jouhaux, secretary-general of the French Labor Federation, declared today as a World Trade Union Congress ... concerned.

The conference elected seven presidents, including M. Jouhaux, and laid down for debate a tentative constitution for a world labor federation.

Other presidents named were Sir Walter Citrine, Great Britain; Sidney Hillman, United States; Vasily Kuznetsov, Russia; Vincente Lombardo Toledano, Mexico; S. T. Liu, China, and August Lindberg, Sweden, elected to represent small countries.

The Congress is expected to sit for a fortnight. Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, represents Canada.

Coaxing Germans Back Into Mines

WEISBADEN, Germany, Sept. 25 (Reuters)—Extra food rations, tobacco supplies and shorter working hours are inducements by which German miners must be coaxed back to work to produce desperately needed coal for Germany and liberated countries, United States Military Government officials announced here today.

Wage and hour disputes, a 30 per cent absenteeism rate, and a disinclination of miners to return from the army are factors mainly responsible for the drop of German coal output to far below the 10,000,000 tons expected this year, it was stated.

Because 60 per cent of skilled mine labor in the United States, British and French zones during the war was imported, much of it slave labor, employment has fallen 40 per cent below normal. More labor for mines is being obtained by releasing men from prisoner of war camps and recruiting them from industries not to be revived.

Little Danger of Shortage of Fuel

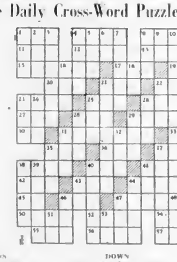

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP)—Fuel dealers here said Monday that unless the coming Winter proves to be exceptionally cold a fuel famine in Vancouver does not appear likely.

Dealers report "quite a shortage" in sawdust supplies, however. Reason for this is that sawmills have been recovering more out of logs than formerly and are using finer saws, producing less sawdust.

Factories Released

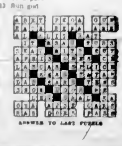

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP)—Twenty-four more Government-owned factories and three Royal ordnance plants have been released for civilian production, the Board of Trade announced tonight.

The bidding

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

It is only fair to admit that South did not have to be optimistic to feel that eight tricks would be available at a spade contract, considering the strength of his own hand and the fact that North had shown values with his response at the two level. Thus while it is taboo to rebid a four-card suit that has not been supported, especially when holding such beautiful support for partner's suit, I cannot deny that very bad luck, as well as the previously mentioned greed for honors, contributed to the outcome.

West led the club queen, and declarer (perhaps unwisely) chose to win with the ace. Now, as may be seen, South could have taken no fewer than 11 tricks by drawing trumps, then knocking out the heart ace. There was a serious flaw in this plan, however. South was afraid that if he gave up all four of his trumps, then led the heart king, West might have the heart ace and promptly shift to diamonds. If the ace-queen lay over the king or if South merely guessed wrong on the diamond lead, the defenders would win at least five diamonds and the heart ace.

To guard against any such calamity, South decided to remove the heart ace before he gave up his trumps. Thereupon an entirely different sort of catastrophe descended upon him! West ruffed the heart king and led the club jack. East ruffed away the club king, cashed the heart ace, then gave West another heart ruff. West cashed the club ten, and on East's signalling with a high diamond shifted to that suit. Declarer ducked in dummy, but the diamond ace was the setting trick.

PLANETARY GUIDE FOR WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26

Keywords for the Day: Expressiveness, adaptability, poise.

Wednesday in General: From 2.30 to 6 a.m. is favorable, especially for travel, thought, plans. Those who [illegible] ities between 6 and 9.36 a.m. will do well to allow themselves a few extra minutes as there is a slight tendency to delays, minor obstructions. The rest of the morning and until 1.32 p.m. favors ideas, resourcefulness, friendships, associations with others. The rest of the day and evening is good for solving problems, mental stimulation, personal interests, but it calls for extra care in transit, concerning distant interests, controversial subjects. Maintain poise then.

If September 26 is Your Birthdate: "Many happy returns." Famous persons born on this date include George Gershwin, composer, T. S. Eliot, poet and critic, Channing F. Meek, industrialist.

Your Year Ahead: News, information, educational interests, travel, legal or distant interests are stimulated this year. Make long-range plans for your future, take advantage of educational opportunities, be diplomatic with others, especially in-laws, be conservative, careful in transit.

Two Known Facts About Cancer

By Dr. J. B. WARREN

Although the cause of cancer is still unknown, there are two things that are known about cancer, (a) the tendency to cancer can be inherited, (b) any irritation in these individuals can cause cancer. If after age 30 in one with a family history of cancer there is any persistent irritation or lump anywhere on the body, the family doctor should be consulted. Surgery, X-rays and radium will cure cancer in the early stages.
